THE NATIONAL ELECTION BILL

Is Ordered Passed By the Republican Caucus.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 25 .- [Special.]-Free coinage is a dead issue.

It was killed in the house today by the votes of democratic deserters.

Indeed, twenty-one democrats voted with the republicans, practically to sustain Reed in his despotic usurpation of power.

Reed appeared in the house early this morning. He was attired in a white and blue tennis shirt, a red polka dot scarf was tied loosely around his collar, and a flowing red Gordon sash encircled his Barnes-like waist. The usual sarcastic smile played on his face as he glanced over the democratic side. He had suffered defeats within the past few days, he had been battered and beaten, but he realized that victory was his today, and he had pre-pared himself for it.

THE HOUR WAS REACHED.

When the hour for the vote was reached there was no excitement, and the result of the vote on Mr. Bland's motion to concur in the senate amendments was defeated by 135 to 152. There were only about twenty of the western free coinage republicans who had the nerve to break away from their piratical leaders, and vote in accordance with their convictions. There are many other free colnage men on the republican side, but they were forced into line with their party, while the democrats deserted in a drove. Indeed, nearly all the New York, Pennsylvania and eastern democrats deserted, while only one man from the south-Dargan, of South Carolina-broke out of the demo-

THE FIGHT AT AN END.

However, the silver fight is at an end. Free coinage has been buried, and Tom Reed has again come out victorious although hehas been quite badly battered and torn up in the rough and tumble fight which has just ended. In this fight the democrats have lost the greatest opportunity that has ever presented itself in the history of the

Had they held together and passed a free coinage bill, it would have placed the republican majority in a decidedly embarrassing posi-tion. It would, indeed, have created a breach in the grand old party, which would have resulted in the certain defeat of that party, both in the congressional and presidential elections. On the other hand, the passage of a free coinage bill by democratic votes would have thrown many of the far western states into the democratic column, while even in the east it would have resulted in practically no democratic loss. The bill now goes to a conference committee of the two houses, where a compromise measure will be agreed upon that will probably be as outlined in the despatches—a bill providing for the compulsory coinage of $4,500,000

The Proceedings in Detail. Mr. Conger moved that the debate on the silver bill be extended from 2 o'clock until 3 p'clock, at which time the voting shall begin. His motion was agreed to, and Mr. Morse and in opposition to the senate bill. Other speakers were Messrs. McAdoo, Peters of Kansas, Taylor of Illinois, Heard of Missouri, Cutcheon of Michigan, Dunnell of Minnes Williams of Illinois, Conger, Bayne, Brosius of Pennsylvania, Stockdale and McKinley.

At 3 o'clock the speaker declared the previous question ordered.

Mr. Springer asked if a separate vote could be had on each of the senate amendments. The speaker replied in the affirmative, and caused the first senate amendment to be read. It was the section providing for free coinage and was a substitute for the first section of the house bill providing for the purchase of $4, 500,000 worth of silver bullion monthly. On both sides it was at once recognized that this was to be a crucial test, and the yeas and nays were demanded on Mr. Springer's motion to concur in the senate amendment.

FREE COINAGE DEFEATED.

As the call progressed, the votes were watched with the closest interest, and the result—the defeat of the free coinage amendment by a vote of 135 to 152—was halled with applause. Following is the vote in detail:

Yeas—Messrs. Abbott, Alderson, Allen of Mississippi, Bankhead, Barnes, Bartine, Blanchard, Bland, Blount, Boatner, Breckinridge of Arkansas, Breckinridge of Kentucky, Brickner, Brookshire, J. B. apon a viva vece vote.

A motion was made by Mr. Conger to disagree to the amendment of the title. It was agreed to without division, as was his motion for the appointment of a conference committee, and the struggle was over. THE NATIONAL ELECTION LAW.

The national election law bill is now before the house. As soon as the silver bill was disposed of today, the majority of the committee on rules brought in a resolution to take up the election law bill at once, and consider it until next Wednesday at 2 o'clock, when a vote shall be taken. Mr. McMillin and Mr. Blount both made strong speeches against railroading the bill through, without having proper time for de-bate and amendment, but they were voted down by nine majority, and the bill was taken up. There was considerable excitement during the brief debate, and the sergeant-at-arms had to bring out his mace to maintain order. However, tomorrow the excitement will begin, and the liveliest scenes ever witnessed in congress are expected during the debate.

THE HOG-LARD MAN.

A. J. Wedderburn, the hog-lard lobbyist for the compound lard bill, is in trouble.

Wedderburn, it is alleged, is the representative of Squire & Co., of Boston, who are fighting and using money for the passage of the bill. Wedderburn runs a little paper, supposed to be printed over at Grange Camp post office, Virginia. It is claimed that the paper, known as the Farm and Fireside, is simply a lobby sheet for the hog-lard men, and the money for publishing it is furnished by these men. This was represented to the post-office department by the cotton-seed oil men, and the Grange Camp post-office was ordered discontinued. It was claimed that Wedderburn was using the office improperly, by sending out his paper as a newspaper, when it is only a lobby sheet. Wedderburn prints his paper at Alexandria, and ships it to Grange Camp by freight, from whence it is mailed. It is claimed the circulation of the paper has aspicion at the department, and an examina tion proved that the postmaster at Grange Camp, a man named Luckett, did not live there at all, but was in Wedderburn's employ, and that Wedderburn was really the postmaster. By distributing the paper from Grange Camp, Wedderburn saved for himself the percentage of postage allowed to fourth-class postmasters With one exception, Wedderburn is said to have been the only patron of the office.

MR. CANDLER'S RETURN. Mr. Candler returned from a week's visit to Georgia this morning. He says there is little excitement in the northern part of the state. The alliance people, he says, are firm. In the seventh district he thinks Mr. Clements will be renominated over Colonel Everett without much trouble. In the tenth he says there seems to be a change of tide, and it is now flowing in Major Barnes's direction. In the eighth he thinks political matters are badly mixed, while in the fifth no one can yet tell who will win. Livingston's and Stewart's strength seems to be about equally divided. In the ninth, his own district, he thinks the even candidates will go into the convention with a county or more each. He met Judge James Brown, and says he found him in good spirits and making a vigorous canvass. thinks Brown will go into the convention with a strong following, but as yet it is impossible to tell who will be nominated. He does not believe that both Darnell and Pickett will be in the race. He believes they will reach an agreement by which one of the two will withdraw. In speaking of the gubernatorial race he said Northen would carry a majority of the counties of the ninth. THE GEORGIA POSTMASTERS By a readjustment of the salaries of secondclass post-offices, made by the department to day, the salary of the Athens postmaster, Matt Davis, is increased from $2,000 to $2,300. The Brunswick postmaster is increased from $2,200 to $2,300, and the Columbus postmaster from Four Georgia postmasters were appointed to-day: D. Clay, at Ware, Bibb county; W. A. Rockmore, Logansville, Walker county; T. J. Clark, Tombardy McDuffie, Walker county; W. S. Simms Nelson, Floyd, Walker county JUDGE STEWART'S CANVASS.

Judge Stewart today telegraphed Colonel Edge, of Douglasville, that he would be there Edge, of Douglasville, that he would be there Saturday to meet Colonel Livingston in joint debate. Judge Stewart has paired with a republican, and will probably remain in the lifth district a month. The judge says he exceives letters containing good news every day, and that many of them are from alliancemen. He seems quite confident of defeating Colonel Livingston.

The Sun's Colton Review. The Sun's Cotton Review.

New York, June 23.—Futures opened with a considerable show of strength, and this crop made an advance of three to five points. But the throatened corner on June options did not materialize, and a heavy pressure to sell at once began, under which prices gave way rapidly, and August sold at 11.51 in the morning hour, against 11.88 at first call. Other months were less depressed, and the next crop showed some strength on the recurrence of excessive rains in the "Mississippi valley with very used buying to January. The early months made some recovery from the lower prices of the morning. At 2:30 p.m., the failure of H. E. Houston was announced. Cotton on spot was quot and 4 lower. Total sales 119,000 bales. Transferrable notices issued for June at 11.59; July 11.70.

TILLMAN'S WAY THROUGH CAROLINA.

POLITICIANS PARALYZED

And at a Loss for Something

HASKELL MAY

Large Law Practice. COLUMBIA, S. C., June 25 .- [Special.]-The

canvass was resumed at Lexington today, and Tillman had things all his own way. It is a Tillman town, and strongly opposed to Governor Richardson, on account of the feeling stirred up by the removal of Leaphart to Columbia for safe keeping by the governor. When Leaphart was returned to the Lexington fail, on the word of prominent citizens that he would not be harmed, the mob lynched

This bitterness against the governor broke out anew today.

When Secretary of State Marshall was speaking against Tillman, he declared that he was opposed to Tillman and his methods.
"We don't want to hear you," said one of "You shall hear me," said Marshall, "I am democrat, and I will be heard in reply to his charges that the senators were pejured. IIt is not true. The senators were honest."

"But Governor Richardson is not honest." Here there was great excitement, and those near enough to hear, say Marshall denounced the man who interrupted him as a liar. The meeting was all one way, and Lexington county will undoubtedly go for Tillman.

THE MEETING AT EDGEFIELD. The meeting at Edgefield tomorrow is in Tillman's county, and he will receive an ovation. The speakers on the other side will be likely to have a tough time. Tillman yester-day challenged Colonel John C. Haskell to meet him at Lexington. Colonel Haskell said he had not been invited to Lexington, and could not go without an invitation, but asked Fillman to meet him in his own home.

"I'll see you are invited," said Tillman, "through Colonel Sloane." Today Colonel Haskell telegraphed Till-man, and he declined, saying "the colonel had refused toshake hands with him."

AND THEN AT AIKEN. The next place of meeting is in Aiken on Friday. Both General Hampton and Colonel Haskell have been invited to Aiken, and both are going. Colonel Haskell is going for the express purpose of making Tillman acknowledge that his charges against the state government are untrue. Colonel Sloane said tonight that Senator Hampton would probably remain and canvass the state, and Senator Butler would be here, too. Colonel John C. Haskell is being pressed by his friends to make the race for governor. The pressure is getting stronger every day, and though it will be at the sacrifice of a magnificent law practice, he is considering the The state executive committee met here tonight, and called a convention to meet here on the 12th of August, and decide whether they will call primaries. The convention when, it gets together, will probably nominate Tillman on the spot. The call is to the effect that the convention meet to do nothing but jumped up in the past few weeks from a few hundred to many thousands. This excited getting stirred up, and propose to organize a local club and run a local ticket in every county.

Colonel Sloan, the red-hot chairman of the Richland executive committee, says the anti-Tillman people may win by work. As things go now it does not look probable.

EVERYTHING IN A SWING. Tillman has got things in a swing, and he is riding on the crest of a tidal wave. The enthusiasm of his followers resembles that of those under conviction in an old-time campmeeting. It is a kind of hallelujah canvass with him. It might be different if Colonel Haskell were in the fight. The local republicans appear to be paralyzed, and it will take a of immense nerve and vigor to stiffen up the party that opposes Tillman.

Colonel Haskell would go in like a cyclone, but even he would have hard work to beat Tillman. His meeting with Tillman at Aiken will be a decisive day in the camp again. If he succeeds in making Tillman back down utterly in the presence of the people, he may break the moral force of the movement. But even then, it is doubtful. Some men say they would vote for Tillman if he fails to make good any of his charges. W. G. COOPER. CALL AND INGALLS.

Washington, June 25.—Mr. Call rose to address the senate on the subject of resolutions heretofore offered by him (and reported back adversely from the committee on foreign relations); one authorizing the president to open negotiations with the Spani h government for the purpose of inducing that government to consent to the establishment of aftree and independent republic in the Island of Cuba; and the other in relation to German ownership of a large proportion of the bonded debt of Cuba.

When Clark was reading the second resolu-tion, Mr. Sherman rose and moved that the doors be closed.

doors be closed.

Mr. Edmunds seconded the motion, and the vice-president directed the galleries to be cleared and the doors closed.

Mr. Call being thus unexpectedly cut off in his desire to make a speech before the public, said he would withdraw the resolution, but the order to close the doors was insisted upon by Messrs. Sherman and Edmunds, and was carried into execution.

carried into execution.

The doors were reopened at 1:30.

Ingalls offered a resolution instructing the committee on privileges and elections to inquire into the publication in the Congressional Record of today of a personal explanation by Mr. Call, and to report whether it is in accordance with the rules, regulations and practice at the senate, and directing that such personal explanation be withheld from the permanent edition of the Record until further order of the senate.

edition of the Record until further order of the senate.

[The publication consists of twenty-eight columns or fourteen pages of "persoal explanation" in regard to the charges against Mr. Call, contained in a pamphlet circulated by W. D. Chipley, and to which Mr. Call called the attention of the senate on June 2d.]

Mr. Call said that he did not think that the resolution should be adopted. There was no possible ground or reason for it, and no excuss for it. He had asked leave of the senate on second of June last to print extracts in the Record in vindication of his career in the senate, in response to a pamphlet attacking him, and that was all that he had done today. The libel to which he had been replying had contained a statement of bills which he had introduced in the senate, and which had not become law. At his leisure he had prepared the statement in his own vindication and had submitted it to a member of the committee on printing (Mr. Gorman), on whose judgment he relied, and who had informed him that there was no impropriety whatever in having it published. There was the whole statement of the case, and where, he asked, was there any breach of privilege in it?

Mr. Ingalls—The senator from Florida has, in my judgment, not only grossly violated and abused the privileges of the senate, but he has deliberately falsified the record of what occurred on the day when the transaction took place.

Mr. Parley, Leill the water from Florida has, in my judgment, not only grossly violated and abused the privileges of the senate, but he has deliberately falsified the record of what occurred on the day when the transaction took place.

Mr. Butler-I call the senator from Kansas

Mr. Ingalls—I withdraw the observation.

Mr. Butler—Is it unparliamentary, Mr. President, for a senator to get up and denounce another senator on this floor of having been But He Will Have to Give Up a other senator on this floor of having been guilty of an infamous crime?

Mr. Ingalls—I withdrew the observation, and say that the senator from Florida changed the record. So far as that is a modification or change, I make it.

Mr. Call—I beg that the senator from Kansas may be allowed to proceed without interruption, and not in order to say wha'ever he desires to say on this subject.

Mr. Butler—The senator from Florida is not entirely judge in this matter. I think it is due to the dignity of this body that such epithets and charges as have escaped the senator from entirely judge in this matter. I think it is due to the dignity of this body that such epithets and charges as have escaped the senator from Kansas (and which I am glad he has withdrawn) shall mot be allowed to go on record without the attention of the senate being called to it.

Mr. Ingalls—I withdraw my assertion that the senator from Florida fabrified the record, and I say that he changed the record without leave from the senate. The senator from Florida asked leave on the 2nd of June to insert certain portions of the Congressional Record, and certain letters and statements as an appendix to his remarks. In the publication this morning the words "as an apendix" are struck out, without leave of the senate, so as to make it appear that he had leave to print this mass of material, which never was uttered, and which he never obtained leave to insert. It is the first time in the history of the senate that such a thing has occurred.

The discussion was further participated in by Messrs. Gorman, Hoar, Manderson and Call. The latter retorted on Mr. Ingalls by pointing out "how small the man, how bitter the malevolence, how mean the character, that could find in such circumstances a willingness to accuse another senator of falsifying the record." He went on to say. "It should deto accuse another senator of falsifying the record." He went on to say: "I should de-mand of him that he show the courage of a man, and not the cowardice of a slanderer."

A RATHER WARM DEBATE.

The National Election Bill Considered by the House.

Washington, June 25.—In the house, Mr. Cannon from the committee on rules reported back a substitute for a resolution introduced by Mr. Lodge, of Massachusetts, setting apart five days of the present week for the consideration of the national election bill. The substitute of the national election bill. The substitute reads:

Resolved, That immediately after the passage of this bill (the silver bill), the house will proceed to consider house bill 11,045 (national election bill) until July 2, at 20'clock, when the previous question shall be considered as ordered on the bill and any pending amendments and on the substitute for the whole bill which members in charge of the bill shall have the right to offer; that during the last two days amendments may be offered to any part of the bill in the house, with debate under the five minute rule. That this shall not interfere with the general appropriation bills.

THE FUN BEGINS.

Mr. McMillin, of Tennessee, wanted to know if gentlemen would be given a chance to offer amendments to any section.

Mr. Cannon replied that that might require thirty to sixty days' time.

Mr. McMillin recalled that some hundreds of amendments had been left pending when the tariff bill was passed, with no chance to vote upon them. He feared that this rule would work in the same fashion as that applied to the tariff bill. No one except a selected few were to be given an opportunity to have their amendments considered. have their amendments considered Finally it was agreed to allow a forty minderstanding that the previous question should be considered as ordered, and Mr. Springer withdrew his motion to adjourn.

Mr. McMillin, democratic member of the withdrew his motion to adjourn.

Mr. McMillin, democratic member of the committee on rules, proceeded to attack the bill, charging that the gentlemen were tired of being elected by the people, and wanted to be elected by the government. For all these years the principles of the framers of the government had been respected, and the three departments of the government had been kept jealously apart. But this good work was to go for naught, and the legislative was to be turned over to the judiciary.

Mr. Blount, of Georgia, another member of the same committee, declared that the bill meant a total revolution in this country in the manner of electing representatives. The propositions contained in the bill were monstrous and degrading to the best, most intelligent and most virtuous element of the country.

Mr. Cannon, of Illinois, sarcastically observed that the bare proposition to consider the bill set his friends from Tennessee and G-orgia into a fever of excitement and declama-

Mr. Cannon replied that it was now in operation in New York city.

This little reference brought many New York members to their feet.

Mr. Flower challenged any republican in the state of New York to say that under the new American ballot system, unanimously adopted by the legislature, the people of New York were not satisfied with the elections.

Mr. Belden of New York asserted that the

Mr. Belden, of New York, asserted that the registry laws had effected that result, and Mr. Cummings shouted that the ballot bill was passed by a state legislature and not by the There was a good deal of confusion at this stage, but the speaker finally secured order by calling out that the gentleman from Illinois and not the state of New York had the floor.

So Mr. Cannon started out with the taunt,
"No rogue e'er felt the halter draw,
With good opinion of the law," and was proceeding to set out the necessity for the law when Mr. McMillin, of Tennessee, the law when Mr. McMillin, of Tennessee, again interrupted, asking what part of the north it was proposed to apply the law to.

Mr. Cannon—Wherever the number of people referred to in this bill, north or south, east or west, believe it is necessary that the general government should have an eye and see that elections are fair, and that ballots are counted. Mr. Cannon replied that no republican votes had been bought there, in his opinion. In his district fair elections had always been obtained. The gentleman seemed to intimate that fraud had been perpetrated there. Mr. O'Neal retorted that if the gentleman himself had not been connected with it he had been slandered.

In a wrangle which followed, Mr. O'Neal.

In a wrangle which followed, Mr. O'Neal, for some minutes, shouted against the speaker's gavel, amid the confusion his words being entirely indistinguishable.

Finally the sergeant-at-arms came forward with his great mace and order was restored.

Mr. Springer moved to table the resolution.

On a yea and nay vote this motion was lost—116 to 133, Mr. Coleman, of Louisiana, being the only republican who voted yea.

After arranging to meet at 11 o'clock for the six days during which debate is to continue, the house, at 5:30, adjourned.

Representative Buckalew, of Pennsylvania, of the committee on election of president and vice-president and representatives in congress, has, on behalf of the democratic members of the committee, proposed a minority report in opposition to the federal election bill. The report presents at length the objections of the minority to the bill, which, in their opinion, demand consideration and rebate.

SPEAKS IN PULASKI.

AN ENTHUSIASTIC CROWD MEETS

By the Proposed Joint Public Meetings.

Macon, Ga., June 25 .- [Special.]-The letter of Colonel Hardeman accepting the challenge of Colonel Northen to meet in joint debate sets at rest all discussion as to the state of his health, etc. He was on the street as usual yesterday afternoon and this morning, and was in the best of health and spirits. He left this morning for Cochran, where he has an appointment, but it is not certain that he will speak.

Colonel Hardeman in Cochran HAWKINSVILLE, Ga., June 25.-[Special.] In response to an invitation of the people of Cochran, Colonel Tom Hardeman delivered an address there today, before a large gathering of the citizens of the town and vicinity. The building-Woodard's hall-was crowded. At the windows and the doors were people eager to hear the old war horse.

At half-past 11 Hon. W. L. Grice introduced Colonel Hardeman in a few choice words, who addressed the people for about three-quarters of an hour. He was frequently interrupted by loud and continuous applause, and it was very evident that the meeting was in thorough sympathy with the speaker. He said he had urged the alliance not to enter politics as a body, warning them of the fate which overtopped the state grangers. For this he had been called an enemy of the farmers. He had battled for the cause of agriculture for twenty years. He had advocated, while a member of the national house of representatives, the elevation of the commissioner of agriculture to a cabinet position, yet he was said to be an enemy of the farmers. He understood the things Governor Gordon has said, in his letter to the editor of the Alliance Farmer. He was an alliance man, had taken upon himself a solemn obligation to support the principles of the order, yet he said he had been called an enemy to the farmers. His reference to his services in behalf of the democratic party and the state in the dark days of reconstruction, was received with tremendous applause.

HEARD BY THE PEOPLE. His speech was listened to with wrapt attention throughout, not the slightest show of impatience being manifested, although the building was close and it was disagreeably warm.

Your correspondent has interviewed quite a number of prominent citizens in regard to the outcome of the election next Saturday, the 28th, but nothing definite can be arrived at, for the Hardeman men retain be a contest in the county. Sometime ago the democratic executive committee ordered a primary on the 28th of this month, to nominate a governor and state-house officers, to be controlled by the same rules which govern our state e'ections. Under this order the county, having a registration law, only those who are qualified to vote in the last election would be entitled to vote in the primary. In today's issue of the Dispatch and News there is a card from G. W. Jordan which says that the committee, in ordering the election to be controlled by the same rules that govern state elections. did not intend that the registration laws should apply, but that all democrats irrespective of registration might vote.

Washington, June 25.—Collections of internal revenue for the first eleven months of the fiscal year ending June 20, 1890, were $130,-622,(01, being $10,594,034 greater than collections for the corresponding period of the last fiscal year. Receipts were as follows: Spirits, $75,516,209, an increase of $7,042,004; tobacco, $31,044,809, an increase of $1,792,039; oleomargarine, $77.8,147, an increase of $1,792,039; oleomargarine, $77.8,147, an increase of $97,277; miscellaneous, $141,750, an increase of $64,506. Receipts for May, 1890, were $877,-671 greater than for May, 1889.

Fallure of a Cotton Firm New York, June 25 .- Just before the clos f the cotton exchange today word was re ceived that the prominent concern of H. E. Huston & Co. had failed. They have been large operators on the bull side, and the steady, sharp decline in prices latterly had forced out their margins. There was a good deal of excitement when the failure was announced, and a considerable line of long cotton was thrown out. Tennessee's Interest Ready.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., June 25.—[Special.]— he state's financial officers have succeeded borrowing two hundred and fifty thousand in borrowing two hundred and fifty thousand dollars to meet the July interest on the state debt. One hundred thousand dollars of the amount is secured from J. A. Coupons will be promptly taken upon presentation at the state treasurer's office after July 1st.

THE IMPRISONED MINERS.

The Rescuers Still Digging to Reach Unfortunate Comrades.

DUNBAR, Pa., June 25.—Still digging away are the miners who are trying to reach their are the miners who are trying to reach their imprisoned comrades. They are 510 feet below the hill and nearly one mile from the mouth of the pit. They are still working in the hardest kind of "gob," and are steadily approaching the point so long aimed for. The fall in which the men are working is of the very hardest kind. As Secretary Watchorn expressed it it could not be more Watchorn expressed it, it could not be more solid if some ponderous machinery had been used to pound and crush it together. When the men will be reached is still a question on which every one is at sea.

It may be tomorrow and it may be Saturday. No one knows what is ahead of the party. They have not met with one fortunate chance. Everything has been against them. Nothing but the strongest nerves and brawniest arms could have put them where they now are. But they are right where they expected to be and will continue until they reach the end.

AN UNPROVOKED MURDER.

A Railroad Engineer Slain Because He Haunted a Man.

RALEIGH, N. C., June 25.—[Special.]—At Wrightsville yesterday a cold-blooded murder was committed, the details of which were received tonight. A fireman on the Sea Coast road was shot by D. J. Garner, a white man from Carteret county, who was a fisherman at Wrightsville. The murder was entirely without provocation. Just before its commission Garner was sitting on a hand car on a side track, with a musket in his hands. The Sea Coast train came and stopped in front of Garner. He raised his gun and, without a word, fired at Hill, who was standing on the engine. A heavy load of buckshot tore Hill's legs to pieces, and he soon bled to death.

Hill did not know Garner, and the m have never even spoken to each other. The shooting caused great excitement, and it was with much difficulty that a large party of negro excursionists was prevented from instantly lynching Garner.

The latter tried to shoot the man who arrested him, but was itied and taken to Wil-mington. He told the police that he shot Hill in self-defense because the latter had "haunted him." It is stated that a fireman on another engine had made Garner angry by telling him to keep off the railway track.

A STORM IN IOWA.

Great Damage to Dubuque-Two Inches of Rain in Two Hours.

DUBUQUE, Iowa, June 25.—An electrical storm struck Dubuque yesterday morning. Two inches of rain fell in two hours and the wind blew forty miles an hour down town. On the hills the velocity was much greater. The lightning and thunder were terrible and inessant. Many families sought refuge in cellars, fearing a cyclone.

In Rockdale valley, south of the city, the flood carried away bridges and drove the peo-ple to the hills for safety.

At Thompson's mill, drowned cattle and horses were swept through the first-story windows of Mr. Titzig's residence, and the family sought refuge on the hills. The bridge at Washington mills, on the Chicago, Milwankee and St. Paul railroad, went down with a crash. On the Illinois Central two bridges washed away between Dubuque and Julien, and 700 feet of track washed out near Farley. Chicago, St. Paul and Kansas City railroad Chicago, St. Paul and Kansas City railroad was washed out for forty miles east and north of Dubuque and the road has not been in operation except east of Dubuque. In the city the damage done was great. Many houses in the upper part of the city are flooded with water. The damage done in this county is estimated at over $100,000.

AN IMPORTANT CASE.

In Which the Validity of Certain Railroad

Bonds Are at Stake. CHARLESTON, S. C., June 25.—[Special.]—An important railroad case was decided in the United States court here today. Some years ago the legislature passed an act authorizing certain townships in the upper section of the state to issue bonds to aid in the construction of what is bow known as the Charleston. of what is now known as the Charleston, Cincinnati and Chicago railroad. The act constituted the townships a body corporate, with power to issue bonds to the amount of the subscription to the railroad. The railroad was built, and a demand made for bonds, but was refused. An attempt was made to pass an act validating the bonds, but failed. The bonds are deposited with the Roston Trust company and posited with the Boston Trust company, and this suit was brought to compel their deliv-ery to the Southern Construction company, of New York, which is building the road. The court decides that the bonds must be delivered. This case involves a dozen or more similar cases in the programmer countries. similar cases in the various upper counties, bonds amounting, perhaps, to a quarter of a million dollars being issued for the construc-

PRIZE FIGHTERS IN COURT.

Receive Light Fines. PURVIS, Miss., June 25.—The cases against Muldoon, Cleary and Donovan, were called in the circuit court today, when pleas of gullty were entered, each asking the clemency of the court, Muldoon stating that he was sorry for having violated the law, but he had the manhood to stand the consequences. Judge Terrell stated that he was glad the defendants had adopted this course. A fine of $250 was entered against Muldoon, and Cleary and Donovan were each fined $100. The fines were paid and the pidoners released. NORTHEN'S REPLY TO HARDEMAN

HE ANSWERS THE LATTER'S LETTER

And Makes a Special Appeal for Democratic Primaries.

HARDEMAN'S QUESTIONS ANSWERED,

Northen Quotes from Some of His Recent Utterances.

Colonel Northen was in Atlanta vesterday He was busily engaged all day answering dozens of letters from people all over the state relating to the affairs of the campaign.

Among the number was Colonel Hardeman's letter, which THE CONSTITUTION published yesterday, in which Colonel Hardeman asks for a conference from Mr. Northen for the purpose of fixing dates for public discussions of the issues of the campaign. To this letter Mr. Northen replied as foltows:

ATLANTA, Ga., June 25, 1890.—Colonel Thomas Hardeman, Macon, Ga.—My Dear Siri I find a copy of your letter, addressed to me at Sparta, published in The ATLANTA CONSTITUTION of this

Accepting the plans you suggest, I will name as my friends Hon. W. L. Peck, Hon. F. L. Little and Mr. George M. Traylor. These gentlemen will meet your friends at the reading-room in the Markham house at a Calcal-Saturah se at 9 o'clock Saturday morning, the 28th

Under invitation, I have accepted many appoint-ments over the state to speak to the people. All these I will cancel at once, and await the action of

When we meet before the people you will discover, as you doubtless learned at Lawrenceville, that I will not hesitate to disclose where I stand on all public questions.

For your personal information, upon a matter that I cannot think at all pertinent, to a reply to my invitation to a joint debate, let me quote from my speech delivered at Thomson, May 28th:

When asked where I stood on the matter of curwhen asked where I stood on the matter of currency, I replied:

"On the policy outlined by the National alliance.
Every man in Georgia knows what that policy is.
The National alliance demands at the hands of congress the enactment of the sub-treasury bill r some better plan.

"As to this measure, Dr. Macune gave to the committee on ways and means the view, as bill, after mature deliberation, be found to be im-practicable, the farmers do not want it. If it be found to be a class measure and to be a class measure to grant favors to a class, it is not what they ask. The farmers believe class, it is not what they ask. The farmers believe they are suffering from class legislation and would not, under any circumstances, violate the organic laws of the country. They come to you as patriotic citizens, devoted to the good of the gen-eral public and the welfare of the government and simply demand justice and right.

"What the farmers want is legislation that is just to every citizen. If what they have asked is wrong, give them some legislation that is a relief, for they are determined to have their rights or know the reason why."

Referring to the same subject in a letter to the Cuthbert Liberal, I said: Cuthbert Liberal, I said:

"When this discussion and investigation shall be had and through it a remedy reached that will distribute evenly the burdens of government and effectually take the farmers from the clutches of peculators, monopolists and trusts, I shall be raid to accept that remedy, if it be righteous, naional and complete."

To show you the relations between the Sparts Ishmaelite and myself, let me quote from an edi-torial published in that paper some months since: "Now, as to Mr. Northen. The Ishmaelite is not his organ. It does not consult him or any other man before taking a position on public questions."

I most heartily endorse the sentiment of Governor Gordon as quoted by yourself in your letter.

More than that, I heartily endorse the man, and I shall everywhere urge his election to the United States senate. Brave, patriotic and true, never having ceased his efforts in the interests of the people up to this proud interests of the people up to this proud moment in his public and private life, he will stand in the United States senate "like a stone against the tide of iniquity that has flooded the country in hurtful national legislation, the friend of the people, and the bold advocate for good government and righteous law.

THE ALLIANCE STICKS. A Talk With Editor Brown About the Congressional Campaign,

Editor Brown, of the Southern Alliance Farmer, is of the opinion that there will be a solid phalanx of alliancemen around the polls at the next congressional election to vote for Colonel Livingston.
"Colonel Livingston is receiving ever day messages from the different alliances," said Editor Brown yesterday, "and they are all pledging him their undivided support. Resolutions of the strongest kind are being sent to him every day from some alliance in the district, and he confidently expects to see a solid line of farmers at the polls when election day comes, to vote the ticket that bears his names."

Hardeman Has Friends There. Hardeman Has Friends There.

CUTHEERT, Ga., June 24.—[Special.]—Randolph county has not caught much of the political fever raging in other sections of the state. Colonel Tom Hardeman has many strong friends in the county, especially among the citizens of Cuthbert. The alliance of the different districts seem to be committed to Colonel Northen, and will probably support him solidly. It looks now like the town is against the country, though Colonel Hardeman may show a stronger hand among the country people as the canvass pregresses.

The Bartow Democrats.

CARTERSVILLE, Ga., June 24.—[Special.]—
The democratic executive committee of Bartow county, met today. It ordered primaries to be held on August 2d, to nominate two candidates for the legislature, and to elect delegates to a county convention, that will select delegates to the convention to nominate a candidate for governor and other state officers. In addition to the two candidates endorsed by the county alliance for the legislature, James J. Conner, formerly of the Cartersville bar, but now a prominent farmer, has announced his candidacy.

Since Colonel Hardeman entered the race for governor, he has developed much strength in this section, and it will take a close calculator to tell how old Bartow is going. His splendid letter announcing himself made a most favorable impression, and the "old war" horse has many strong friends here.

Little is being said on congressional matters just yet. The Bartow Democrats.

Apropos: A prominent allianceman of this county informed your correspondent that the alliance of Jackson county would doubtless have "another Richmond" in the field in the person of Judge H. W. Bell, ordinary of Jackson county. This allianceman told me that there was being made a quiet but earnest effort on the part of Judge Bell's many friends in the alliance to have him endorsed by this organization, and if such is done, we venture the prediction right here that Hon. H. W. Bell will be the next congressman from this district.

County politics are at fever-heat here. The alliance convention, which meets here on next Saturday, composed of delegates from nineteen clubs, of some thirty-five members each, will hold a conclave. It is rumored that they will express a choice for members of the legislature and state senator. They are disposed not to advocate the claims of anyone who offers for the position, although two alliance members, Mr. George W. Smith and John W. Moody, have announced, and two better and more fitted gentlemen for the legislature cannot be found. The alliance are disposed to let the office seek the man. Colonel A. F. Pope will doubtless be one of the alliance candidates. George B. Lumpkin, J. F. Dillard and many others are rumored to be their choice in convention as the other, Charles M. Witcher, is their preference for senator, unless they reverse the positions of Colonal Pore, and Mr. their preference for senator, unless they reverse the positions of Colonel Pope and Mr. Witcher.

ALMOST IDENTIFIES THE THREE

Who Are Held in Lawrenceville Jail Charged With a Heinous Offense-They Are Held for Trial.

LAWRENCEVILLE, Ga., June 25-[Special.] Today is a gloomy one for law and order The excuse for this apprehension appeals to the natural instincts of every white man. It is one of momentous issue to Speer, colored, and Thomas Harvey.

Some make light of the statement that the people have been on the eve of taking control of matters themselves, but it is a mere fancy of the inobservant and uninformed. Dange lurks in the air and the spirit of insurred is moving the hearts of men. Mrs. Taylor's outrage is the motive. The fiat has gone fort that three negroes must die, but the have no desire on earth to take innocent bl Hundreds of men are in town and they have a born leader of men at the front. The only fear is, he is too daring and reckless of human life, certainly in a case of this sort.

MRS. TAYLOR ON HAND.

It was desired to have a secret and private dentification, as Mrs. Taylor had never seen the negroes. When she was carried in a roundabout way to the jail it got out, in some mys terious way, and the street to the jail was one solid stream of moving humans, and when the party interested directly in the identification arrived at the jail it was impossible to gain entrance. The sheriff was advised to leave the jail for awhile, and some of the party did, and one remained to inform the people that the jail would not be opened until the crowd had left. As one of the interested parties gave this information, the people, without a murmur, silently left the jail and shortly afterwards a secret entrance was gained and the negroes brought out. C. H. Bond, N. L. Hutchins, Jr., the sheriff, and a brother and a cousin of the lady were present, besides Messrs. Morgan and Sykes, who arrested Len Dunlap, and Mr. Whidby, a friend of the lady. LOOKING UPON THE NEGROES The lady, dressed in a plain white dress, weak, but cool and deliberate, took her seat between her brother and cousin. The negroes were called up from their cells and ordered out. They filed out of their iron cages into the presence of Mrs. Taylor with a nervous step, whether from fear of danger or remorse of conscience, if they have any, no one knows. They were asked if they knew Mrs. Taylor. Speer answered that "he had never seen her Harvy said, "he had never seen her as he knew of." Lon said he never saw her before the night he was carried before her in Ben Smith's district when arrested.

THE ATLANTA INCIDENT. The Atlanta negro said, in Lon's presence, that he left them in Brunswick, and with Speers's coat, shoes and hat, and that he stole them. Speer had on the hat, coat and shoes which he had taken from Lon. The party questioned Lon at length, and he showed hi intense agony by his manner of talking, the nervous twitch of his mouth and the voluperspiration rolling down his face. Mrs. Tayor eyed him like she would a tiger.

During the whole time the identification was proceeding she hardly took her keen dark eyes off of Lon, and she firmly believes he is the negro who carried her baby. When she viewed them to her satisfaction they were returned to their cells, and she went to dinner. She refused at the instance of her advisers, to express herself until she had time to rest. After an hour's interval the same party assembled, and she expressed herself in substance as follows: Her first words were:

"I can't exactly identify them, but their size, their looks-their clothes-is mighty like the ones with me that evening." Your correspondent then asked her did she think they were the ones. She replied:

"They look mighty like them." She never spoke to any one, nor did any one speak to her, during the above interval, and her expressions are impartial, and came freely and unencumbered with bias or duress. She says Lon is wearing one of the hats she can identify positively. That is the hat Andrew Speer wore here from Atlanta. She says one had on a brown hat at the time, and Harvey has that kind of a hat now. She says, how ever, the size of Speer does not correspond with her idea of the black negro, and that Harvey is hardly as light as the yellow one was, but that he then walked very much like his swinging walk now. They were all required to walk before her. In conclusion she said she wanted no inocent negro hurt, but would freely give up her life to have the guilty apprehended and punished, and the last opinion she gave was as follows:

"I don't know whether I could be satisfied that the yellow negro is the one or not." THE TRIAL PROCEEDS.

After these statements it was determined to go ahead with the trial. Engineer Dyer, Peeples, Burd and Deaton presided. Policeman Lockey and Newborne are here, witnesses for defendants. They have claimed defendants. could prove by them that on May 29th-Thursday-they were in Atlanta; that two negro women fought on that day and they were witnesses. These officers refused to swear this, but said the day and time referred to was June 3d, but that they saw Harvey there June 1st.

The negroes were marched from jail under a guard of twenty-five officers armed with Winchester rifles, pistols and shot-guns. The rain fell in torrents as the tramp of the guard began, but they marched through the streets un-MRS. TAYLOR'S DOUBT.

Mrs. Taylor's doubt as to the negroes, allowed them to enter the hall of justice freely and safely, and it is this uncertainty that in sures them a fair, unprejudiced and harmles

The evidence before the court was in substance as above related. The court committed them for rape promptly at the close of the case. The negroes, while in court, where sursounded by the armed guard. After the At-lanta officers swore that they could not say if the negroes were in Atlanta, May 29th, a revolution seemed imminent. Everybody began to press towards the bar and remained in a standing attitude. One man spoke out, "They are the bucks." Another replied, "Let's rip them up," and two or three men, related to the lady, advised the sheriff to remove them from the court-room. The court acted upon the suggestion, and ordered the sheriff to remove them. It was reported that they would be attacked on the way, but before the leaders, if any, could act, the sheriff and his guard were nearly to the jail, and they were safely lodged therein.

THE EVIDENCE AGAINST THEM. The trial is over. The parties are committed. The bent of the public mind after the mitted. The bent of the public mind after the trial is now over, after the people have seen and heard Mrs. Taylor talk, and seen the negro, can be summed up as follows:

1. That Ion Dunlop was present when the assault was made, and knows who did it.

2. That at some time in the future, when they have used him as far as is possible to get proof from him of the other guilty parties, he will be killed, if the jail has to be torn down to do so. 3, That it is doubtful if Speer and Harvey

4. That guilty or not, they will not be moested now, and not until a full investigation by the grand jury. This opinion does not coincide with the opinion prevalent this morning, for the reason that Mrs. Taylor had not seen the negroes. The only thing that saves the lives of the negroes is Mrs. Taylor's own doubt. After the trial was over there were still many who desired to take the negroes and hang them. One said in Mrs. Taylor's presence that within ten days they would be taken out. Another said that they ought not to have been allowed to go back to jail. Judge Hutchins says he will call an ad-journed term, if required, to try them.

DEFENDING HENDERSON.

A Card Replying to Charges Against the Commissioner's Administration.*

RICHMOND COUNTY, June 24th, 1890.—Editors Constitution: I have read the various charges made against the administration of the department of agriculture, and have failed to find a single valid reason why a change should be made. I have also listened to the arguments and freasons given by the two opposing candidates why either the one or the other should succeed Colonel Henderson in office. They have, for months, been fraveling over the state attacking the official management of the commissioner and his private planting interest with the hopes of influencing the people of their fitness for office; but I have failed to see that they have shaken the farmers of Georgia in their confidence in Colonel Henderson. Charges have been made against the department of agriculture that every farmer in Georgia of Intelligence knows to be unreasonable and without foundation and incapable of proof. Every man of ordinary intelligence, whether farmer or merchant, knows that the value put upor commercial fertilizers is relative and not positive, and is done for the purpose of the purchasers to make an approximate value when buying the same. Furthermore not even an idiot supposes for a moment that the commissioner has any power to fix values, and when such charges are made that the guano manufacturers are willing to sell their products for less than cost, the charge is too puerile to be answered, and is an insult to the intelligence of the farmers. The charge is too puerile to be answered, and is an insult to the intelligence of the farmers of guano for the purpose of electioneering funds in the interest of the commissioner is an insult to the people of Georgia and a vile slander upon the integrity and purity of Colonel Henderson, which should meet with the contempt of every upright farmer in the state. We have not yet adopted such a yankee system in Georgia politics, and God forbid that such northern methods should ever invade our state. Colonel Henderson has n Card Replying to Charges Against the Commissioner's Administration. I know that Colonel Henderson has worked with zeal and industry to establish experimental farms and stations, and if we have not such it is no fault of his; and if his practical advice had been followed, we would have had an experimental farm that would have benefited the farmers sons of Georgia—where practical farming would have been taught instead of the truck-patch concern that we have got.

that would have benefited the farmers' sons of Georgia—where practical farming would have been taught instead of the truck-patch concern that we have got.

In the purchase of seeds for the department, and the distribution of the same, Colonel Henderson has pursued an economical, wise and conservative course which has greatly benefited the agricultural interests of the state. As much funthat has been made of the Spanish peanut by one of the candidates, I will venture to say that nothing that has been introduced into the state has been of greater benefit (with the exception of the rust-proof oats) and of more value to the farmer than that little but valuable peanut. When we look at the difference of the western farmer and the southern farmer, we must examine the cause why the former lives better and more economical than the latter, and we will find that the western farmer is not cursed with the slip-shod labor of the negro, or the waste and destruction arising from such labor. With our system of labor employed in the west, they would not only be mortgaged as they are, but would have no shelter over their heads, as they only maintain their position by the economy, industry, and intelligence of their white labor.

Negro labor exhausts the soil, while white labor improves the soil and increases the product. So Colonel Henderson has no power to control or direct physical forces as a higher being directs it. When we make a critical analysis of Colonel Henderson's administration we are compelled to say that he has given to the people of Georgia a clean, wise, judicious and economical administration the nas made mistakes, but has always corrected them when pointed out. Therefore no change in the office is neaded and Colonel Henderson should succeed himself.

KEEP YOUR BLOOD PURE.

A small quantity of prevention is worth many pounds of cure. If your blood is in good condition, the liability to any disease i much reduced, and the ability to resist its wasting influence is ten-fold greater. Look then to your blood, by taking Swift's Specific S.S.S.) every few months. It is harmless in ts effects to the most delicate infant, yet it cleanses the blood of all poisons and builds up the general health.

A Prompt Cure.

The Members Meet and Perfect Organization

-The Officers.
Yesterday the members of the Northen club met at the headquarters on Broad street.

The report of the committee that had been appointed to nominate the officers of the club reported the following names: Hon. William H. Venable for president, and Hon. W. L

Peek for vice-president. These officers were duly elected, and Mr. Charles S. Northen; and Mr. C. F. Rice wer elected secretaries. Mr. Lewis Thomas was made chairman of a committee to superintend the registration o membership.

Each member was instructed to go to vor and bring in as many names for membership as possible. Just before the club adjourned Mr. Northe entered the hall, and was called upon to mal e a speech. He responded with an able speech. Coweta, Crawford, Glascock, Pickens and Pulaski counties will be agitated Saturday by

THE WORK OF A SMALL CYCLONE AROUND TAYLOR.

House Swept Out of the Way-Fifty Negroes Gather in a New Building, and one Struck by Lightning.

TAYLOR, Ga., June 25.—[Special.]—On Saturday last, at about 5 o'clock in the afternoon, a very heavy and threatening rain storm passed directly over this place, and for quite a while a cyclone was feared by all present. One on a small scale passed a few hundred yards from the postoffice, and was described fully by those who observed it as being similar to a whirl-

Just as it was being observed by a great number of citizens, it came in contact with a frame cottage, in which lived an old negro woman, and instantly it went tumbling to the ground. A band of darkeys rushed to the scene and rescued her, she receiving severe bruises about the body.

THE CLIMAX REACHED. The climax of excitement had not yet been reached. Taylor & Freeman occupy a large two-story wooden building. As it was recently erected it was supposed to be the safest from the dan-gerous wind, and about fifty persons were there seeking safety, forgetting that the building was unprotected from a lightning discharge, and that the presence of so many people only increased the danger. At last the terror came, and those who were only a few minutes before discussing the incidents of the wind and rain, were now falling and reeling to the floor Just how long they remained in this state can not be reliably stated, but it is estimated by observers at from thirty seconds to five minutes

HOW THE FLASH ENTERED. The flash entered the chimney and traversed it for about fifteen feet, and then made a route to the earth throughout the building. Evi-to the earth throughout the building. Evidences of the shock were plainly felt fully one hundred yards from the store. Fortunately no lives were lost, but everyone who experienced the shock was very much frightened.

As soon as it was possible for those inside to bring into usage their powers of locomotion, darkeys could be seen fleeing through fields and over fences, and as an old woman remarked: "O, Lord, let me get furder away."

The damage to the building and stock is estimated at about $250.

THE LAST MULE. A mule belonging to Mr. D. A. McGuirk, who had just stopped in out of the rain on his way home from the alliance meeting, was struck by lighting and instantly killed. It was the only one the old gentleman had, and losing it just at this season is very unfortunate for him. Any contributions from brother alliancemen, or others sent to Joseph Taylor will be thankfully received and given him.

MILLEDGEVILLE, Ga., June 25.—[Special.]
During a thunder storm here today, lightning struck the residence of Mr. J. P. Owens, on McIntosh street, tearing the shingles, etc., but did no other damage. The inmates of the household received slight shocks, but nothing serious

DID YOU EVER

Look on the Label of your favorite baking powder to see if all the ingredients are published? Ammonia, a substance injurious to health, is an adulterant of some high. priced baking powders advertised and generally believed to be "absolutely pure." Cheap, prize, and gift powders contain alum, terra alba, &c., as well as ammonia.

Housekeepers who desire pure and wholesome food should refuse to buy ANY baking powder, no matter what its reputation, unless all the ingredients are frankly made known.

For many years all the ingredients used in Cleveland's Superior Baking Powder have been published on every label, and the analysis as stated is verified by Official Reports, the highest testimony in the land. CLEVELAND BAKING POWDER CO.,

AN HOUTEN'S COCOA

"BEST & GOES FARTHEST."

Now that its manufacturers are drawing the attention of the American public to this first and, ever since its invention, the best of all cocoas, it will soon be appreciated here as well as elsewhere all over the world. All that the manufacturers request is simply one trial, or, still better, a comparative test with whatever other cocoa it may be; then VAN HOUTEN'S COCOA itself will convince every one of its great superiority. It is because of this superiority that the English paper Health, says: "Once tried, always used."

13 To avoid the evil effects of Tea and Coffee, use constantly VAN HOUTEN'S COCOA, which is a STRENGTHENER of the NERVES and a refreshing and nourishing beverage. [52]

The Clay Floor Dwellers.

We print elsewhere a communication from Mr. Edward A. Oldham in regard to the negroes living on clay floors. It may be as Mr. Oldham intimates, that a large majority of negroes in the south have been in the habit of living on clay floors, but if this is so they are such floors as very few people would like to live on. Four poles stuck in the ground, four walls, and this is the whole business. Who has ever seen a southern negro living in an Indian wigwam? It is not often that there is any dispute as to the habits of the southern negroes. We see them on the minstrel stage in strange and uncouth garbs, and we hear them playing on the banjo and the bones. All this is the purest fancy, and it would be the wildest imagination if it had not been sanctified by the drunken craziness of circus performers of the old Bob Ridley stripe. Think, for instance, of a southern negro going around and proclaiming himself to be old Bob Ridley, or Jim Crow. Did anybody ever see a southern negro, slave or free, going around the country in a calico coat and buttons as big as a wash-tub, with a banjo on his back, and singing songs written by a white man?

We have special reasons for asking such a question. It is time that a little common ase was brought to bear on the question, The stage is a very large affair, and has been illuminated by Shakespeare and his successors. But is the largeness of the stage any reason why a parcel of gaping men and women, who know the negro thoroughly, should endorse the negro frauds of the stage and literature? Why cannot people be thoroughly honest with themselves and denounce tricky appeals to their approbation?

Let us take Mr. Oldham's letter for what it is worth, and consider it with an eye to facts and history. Think of a negro living in such a domicile! The point to consider is not the clay floor-for many a white person in this country has lived and done well on clay floors; but the intimation that clay floors, with all the beautiful appointments that Mr. Oldham sets forth, are negro institutions to be identified with the blacks and their past is simply a fraud.

There is no need why any southern man should cater to the imagination of northern readers in order to get into print. The simplest thing in this world is the truth.

A Mistaken Contemporary.

The Albany Express falls into the usual error of papers that are not familiar with the political situation in the south, and doubts the democracy of the Farmers' alliance. Onoting from a recent editorial in these colmmns the Express says!

THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION is endeavoring to convince its readers that the Farmers' alliance is "thoroughly democratic, and is moving altogether on democratic lines." If that is the fact, is it not a little singular that so many prominent democrats are openly and steadily opposing it? Cardemocrat of prominence, except Governor Gor-don, of Georgia, is supporting it. This is a big blunder. As far as we have been able to observe. Messrs, Carlisle, Mills, and other representative men who have expressed themselves in regard to the alliance, are not against it as an organization; they merely differ with it on certain lines of policy-one of these being the sub-treasury bill, to which Mr. Carlisle and one or two others are honestly opposed.

It is going too far to question the democracy of the alliance on these weak grounds. and the statement that Governor Gordon is the only prominent democrat who is supporting it is simply absurd.

We advise our contemporary to study the situation in Georgia more attentively clance over the field will show that the alliance has the hearty support of the best men in the country; that it is, as we have said, democratic to the core, and that while good democrats may differ with it on different points of policy, they are heartily in sympathy with it as a whole, and will work side by side with its members for the common good.

In view of the oft-repeated facts as to the politics of the alliance, it is strange that our northern contemporaries will persist in making a distinction between it and the democratic party. The alliance is the democratic party itself; how can it be considered from any other standpoint?

It is a pity that some of our esteemed contemporaries will not, or cannot, understand this, for if they had a clear conception of the purposes of the alliance, they would save the order from much misrepresentation and themselves from the imputation of profound

The Campaign in the Carolinas. The campaigns in North and South Carolina are warmer than the weather, and our political dispatches from the twin states make very interesting reading. Especially is this the case with the daily record of the South Carolina campaign, in which Tillman, the modern "Moses," they call him, is smiting the rock right angrily, and creating a great splutter among the bulrushes. The greatest interest centers in South Carolina, and the greatest fight will be fought there. The war is between democrats-the farmers on one side, and the "lawyers," as they seem to regard their opponents, on the other-and if the meeting at Columbia on Tuesday, which was so graphically reported in THE CONSTITUTION, is a sample by which the conflict may be judged, it will be at white heat until Tillman is elected or de-There is something bold, stubborn and aggressive in the man's attitude which attracts and commands attention. The way he fought his enemies at Columbia shows the fight is to the death.

The most powerful influences will be brought to bear against him, and the greatest warriors of South Carolina have entered the lists and leveled their lances at him. But he goes charging on, and it may be said that he has literally split the state in twain. Our only wish is that the best will happen for South Carolina, and that she will con through the fire unscathed.

A Tale of Two Cities.

St. Paul and Minneapolis are at dagger points, and it would only take the drop of a hat to precipitate a riot between the rival cities. And all on account of the census! The St. Paul people charge that Minneapolis, in her ambition to outstrip them in the census race, returned thousands of dead men's names to the enumerators. Then Minneapolis gathers her indignant skirts about her, and stands up before the world and calls St. Paul a liar!

The Minneapolis papers say that the inspiring cause of "the outrage" was not a desire to punish crime, but "the supreme jealousy and malice of St. Paul vented upon a rival city, that by force of its natural advantages and superior enterprise had outstripped St. Paul in the race for supremacy.

Then Minneapolis bursts into tears, and reproaches St. Paul with all she' has done for her. She attended every winter carnival St. Paul ever held; she fostered St. Paul enterprises, and was friendly to her always. And now to be thus abused!

We have been expecting trouble from this ensus business, but little thought that it would come in this wholesale fashion. It is a "Tale of Two Cities" more terrible and touching than any Dickens ever wrote.

A Russian. Some years ago, the Century magazine printed the portrait of Tolstoi, the Russian story-writer. The publication was in the nature of what seemed to be a demand on the part of a certain school of readers and fictionists. Mr. William Dean Howells, our own brilliant writer, hailed the Russian as a prophet, and made some entertaining quotans from a mass of stuff called "Peace and War." We are convinced that no sane person ever read this mess, and we desire to state that we regard Mr. Howells as wholly sane. We mean to seriously state, therefore, that not even Mr. Howells, who has a good deal of time at his command, ever groped his way through the interminable stuff that stands for Tolstoi in literature. Mr. Howells made some apt quotations. A grain of pearly corn, perhaps a half-dozen grains, can be found in a pigsty, but it is a small compliment to the digestion of the swine to pick them out and hold them up to the public as examples of wit and religion. This, however, has been a part of Mr. Howells's work as a critic, and, as it turns out, is not his least happiest work. Undoubtedly he has led many people to make an attempt to wade through the heavy morasses of slime and mmorality that stands for Tolstoi's works, and no sane person who has ever made this attempt has ever found his purpose anything but filthy.

We made some allusion awhile ago to Tolstoi's portrait. Every newspaper in the land ought to reproduce it as a warning to the younger generation. It is the representation of a hairy brute, not far removed from the monkey tribe, with the same cuteness in literary expressions that the monkey has in handling a handful of filberts, and it is this cuteness that has deceived Mr. Howells, who, being a sensible and sensitive man, is easily deceived.

One of Tolstoi's latest publications is celled "The Reutzer Sonata." We have neither the time nor the inclination to go into the details of this vile publication. It is sufficient to say that an American lady, familiar with the grossness that is one of the characteristics of foreign literature, has refused to translate it. It has been translisle, Mills and Voorhees are against it, and no lated, nevertheless, and it is an attack on marriage. It is full of Russian dirt and filthiness, showing the wrinkles full of nastiness that has no excuse for existence. All this is bad enough, but now Tolstoi. his hands and mind dripping with filth, de fends his position, attacks marriage, and endeavors to show that his vile novel is some thing for a decent mind to consider.

The least-and the worst-that can be said of Tolstoi is that he is a Russian.

Chairman Trammell's Letter. We publish elsewhere, after having been properly revised, the letter of Hon. L. M. Trammell, chairman of the Georgia railroad commission, to Hon. T. J. Brown, of Sherman, Texas, on the subject of the working of the commission in this state. THE CONSTITUTION reviewed at length, a few days ago, the contest now going on in Texas, in which the establishment of a railroad commission similar to the commission of Georgia is one of the principal issues. We published Chairman Trammell's letter Sunday, but several mistakes having been made, we take pleasure in presenting it after having been revised, because such an important document as it is should be given the benefit of its true meaning.

Chairman Trammell's arguments are conclusive, and demonstrate beyond doubt that the Georgia railroad commission has been a remarkable success.

Colonel Trammeli has been a member of the commission for eight years, having been appointed when the commission was in its infancy. He has contributed much to its success, and his long experience as a member of the body puts him in a position to speak authoritatively on the success of the law and the benefits which have accrued from its successful application.

A Great Reunion.

The coming reunion of confederate veterans at Chattanooga bids fair to be, as the local papers prophesy, "a stupendous dem-onstration." For months past the people have been preparing for it, and the affair has been so widely advertised and commented on that it has excited national interest and will have national representation.

The reunion committee is now actively at work, and no expense will be spared to make the occasion one of the most notable of the kind since the war. From every city in the south the men who followed the fortunes of the confederacy will come, and from the preparations which are now being made, we predict that Georgia will be represented in overwhelming numbers. From Washington county alone four hundred veterans will march on Chattanooga, while every other county in the state will muster its men to the front.

From the valleys of Virginia the old sol diers who fought close by the side of Lee, will come in goodly numbers, while Louisi-ana has sent and that she will send two thousand. All the southern states will be at the great gathering, and it is assuming such proportions that the hospitality of Chattanooga will be put to the test in the entertainment and disposal of the multi-

But the arrangements for this are perfect. The proposed plan of organizing the reception committee contemplates subdividing the grand committee into special committee and so assigning them that they can meet the trains as they arrive from the states and localities where the respective committees are best acquainted. Each division headquarters will be provided with a special committee from the grand reception committee, who are expected to be on hand at all times to furnish information and entertain the visiting veterans.

If there are no rebel flags in this great gathering, we may expect to hear some goodnatured rebel yells under the stars and stripes; but they can still celebrate the memories of the past, and shout, "God Save the Union!" as they stand beneath the silverstarred and red-striped emblem of a glorious and reunited country.

Ir will be a fine thing for the republican party when Brother Blaine gives the public his ideas on the tariff bill. He has made some remarks in a corner, but the country would be glad to hear his full voice if Mr. Harrison has

It is not known what the anti-silver democrats cost the republicans, but it is to be hoped that they held themselves at a flealthy price.

AFTER Mr. Blain gets through with Mr. William McKinley perhaps he will take hold of Colonel Quay. Quay is the only colonel in any part of the country who refuses to deny that he is something of a thief.

In the Boston Congregationalist of last week appears a little poem by Mrs. Ellen K. Bradford, of Washington, D. C., which we publish Mrs. Bradford will be remembered as the lady who conducted the delightful entertainment, "Ben-Hur," in this city a short time

It will not be an easy matter for the repubican party to walk over Mr. Blaine in regard to his tariff views.

The Stephens Moanment. In another column, THE CONSTITUTION prints a list showing some of the subscriptions rom Atlanta to the Stephens monument fund. Miss Mary A. H. Gay, who has secured these subscriptions, has worked tirelessly for the fund, and her work has been most successful. It is a work of love and a work that should appeal to the heart of every Georgian. The monment to Alex Stephens should be built, and

A FEW GEORGIA SCENES.

"Our subscribers must understand that edit ors are human," writes a Georgia editor. Of ourse they are, and we thank the Lord for their humanity.

Branham, of Brunswick, is going to run me of his men for the legislature. He might as well belong to it himself, as he is in Atlanta six months of every year. But never too often, however. See latchstring on outside.

"It's hot-is it not?" he said, but not A word they spoke.

But suddenly the brittle thread of his Life in pieces broke.

"While the people of the north," writes a Georgia editor, "are sweltering in the heat, e are sitting under our own vine and fig tree, with a watermelen on one side, a jug of cider on the other, four miles from a railroad station and seventy-five miles from our mother-in-law."

The Weekly Madisonian is as good in the summer as it is in the winter, and the hard work which is showing up in its columns is evidence of the fact that Editor Furlow never takes a furlough.

Editor Sweat, of the Waycross Reporter, ver has to "dun" his subscribers. He is a good Methodist himself and has converted the last one of them. When a man gets religion, he pays his debts—if he has the money.

It is "The Daily Signal," of Dahlonega now. And a very creditable paper it is-four pages, five columns, and newsy all the way through. Success to the Daily Signal of Dahlonega.

The Constitution in North Carolina. am the Raleigh, N. C. Visitor.

From the Raleigh, N. C. Visitor.

Mr. C. F. King, special staff correspondent of THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION, is in the city for the purpose of gathering data for a page letter, to be illustrated with cuts of buildings and prominent citizens. Mr. King has already made very extensive write-ups of half a dozen North Carolina towns and this work of development by the south's greatest and representative newspaper should be appreciated. Mr. King has had much experience and is among the bost known writers ig the south. This is a sufficient guarantee that his Raleigh letter will be faithfully prepared and do a great deal of good. Let progressive Raleigh see that he receives proper attention while here.

POLITICS IN STATE PAPERS.

-The Marietta Journal says that Judge George N. Lester is pushing his candidacy for nination of attorney-general.

-The alliancemen of Fayette county are naming their boy babies after Hon. John D. Stewart. -A correspondent of the Marietta Journal advocates the claims of Hon. S. R. Cochran for representative. The Journal says his name will be presented to the people, and that the southern part of the county will go for him.

—At a meeting of the democratic executive committee of the seventh congressional district, it was resolved that on Wednesday, September 10th, the congressional convention meet at Calhoun to nominate a candidate for congress.

—The Madisonian, of Madison, puts the name of Hon. W. J. Northen at its masthead, and strongly endorses his candidacy.

At the request of a majority of the committee, there will be a meeting of the democratic mittee, there will be a meeting of the democratic executive committee of Cobb county at the court-honse, in Marietta, on the first Tuesday in July next, for the purpose of tranacting such business as the interest and harmony of the party demand.

—The Cobb county alliance has endorsed Northen for governor, Hon. R. W. Everett, of Public for converses for the seventh district Robert

TALKING SHORT TERMS.

THE CLOSE OF THE SCHOOL YEAR REVIVES THE DISCUSSION.

orial Utterances of a Prominent Medical Journal-Nine Months Terms Said to Be Long Enough.

The close of the school year seems to have revived the discussion of the question of shorter school terms.

In this connection, an editorial written by Dr. A. W. Griggs in the last issue of the Southern Medical Record will be read with interest.

It is headed "A Plea for the Children of the Public Schools South," and is as follows:

It has been charged that every man who has taught school three months suffers with a chronic and incurable case of big head, on all school subjects. The humble writer was a pedagogue forty years ago, and he may possibly be still suffering from the early effects of this disease. Nevertheless we claim to belong to the progressive class of educational promoters, and we feel that it is our duty to speak out when there is anything in conflict with the educational interests. The art of teaching has been greatly perfected; the text books, for the most part, meet the requirements of the age—and the school system has been much improved in the last decade. All of this is highly satisfactory—we feel a just pride in our public schools, colleges and universities. Our complaint is that the children of the public schools south do not have sufficient time for rest and recreation during the hot season. They should not be in school during June, July and August. The relaxing effects of summer heat, coupled with the worry of preparing recitations and the performance of the usual duties of the school-room, lay the foundation for enfeelied powers of digestion, and therefore weakened constitutions. Children thus circumstanced become an easy prey to prevailing diseases, with diminished chances for recovery. The nervous system in childhood is easily upact, especially in case of females, arriving at the age of puberty. Convusions are common. Rehx the system of a child, and tax the brain with study, and other school duties, and if it escapes harm, it is sheer accident. One of my own children came near dying, a few years ago, of too much heat and too much school. We are alarmed when we see the dangers which lie in wait for the children of the public schools, especially of our large cities, during the hot months. In one case there may be only lassitude and headache; in another mental inertia; in another weak and imperfect vision. Irregular mu It is headed "A Plea for the Children of the

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE.

EDITORS CONSTITUTION: The existence in e south, before and since the war, of floors mad of clay is too well known to be placed among "the department of myths" by usually so well-in-ormed a paper as THE CONSTITUTION. In the hill country of both Virginia and North Carolina, and I suspect of Tennessee, South Carolina and Georgia, hard clay floors are to be found at frequent intervals. Certainly this is so in the two states first mentioned. Nor are they con-fined to the cabins of the colored population. The dining-rooms of well-to-do planters were often in the basement, and the floors were of elay, as hard, as evenly packed down, and as free from often in the basement, and the floors were of clay, as hard, as evenly packed down, and as free from any requienant associations as the most refined nature could wish. I recall one in particular: The room was a spacious rectangie, with a roomy fire-place at one end, before which was a broad ochre-thirted hearth of unusually large brick. The fire dogs were high and of brass, in an old-fashioned design. The mantel was of ook, genuinely antique. The floor was of red clay, a shade more red than the "hearth-stone." A heavy roller or maul, with a smooth end, had made the clay surface as level as a marble slab. Here and there bits of matting were placed about, of a rich yellow, that blended harmoniously with the warmer that of the clay. From the floor to near half way up to the ceiling a wainscoating of some hard wood ran all around the room, and above that was a rough, sanded surface of a terra cottacolor. The ceiling overhead was of snowy whitewash. The winter fires of several generations had baked the clay in the floor to the hardness of brick, and it was capable of being scoared with brush and water, as it it had been of any other matterial. The room was always delightfully cool, and certainly it was as any each to the even and and certainly it was as arreadale to the even and brick, and it was capable of being scoured with brush and water, as it it had been of any other material. The room was always delightfully cool, and certainly it was as agreeable to the eye and cosy withal as any one could wish.

It was even more frequent to find the floor of kitchens and of the negro cabins made of clay, and great care was invariable exercised in selecting a fine quality of clay. The color was usually red or yellow, but often of white or blue, and the material used being nothing less than a superior article of kaolin.

There comes to mind the closing verse of a poem entitled, "The Old Clay Floor," written by a southern lady, and which accentuates the fact that such floors have actually had an existence in the south. I quote:

"And like the Greek exile who bore where he went

Why Not All Move Together? EDITORS CONSTITUTION: This question is now asked each day by our people living on the lines of the different railroads leading into the city. the different railroads leading into the city.

They say if one road can put on and make a success of an hourly train, the other roads can do it too, as the population will justify it to within eight miles of the city.

The Central railroad moved first in the matter, and that train has paid them from the day it storted.

and that train has paid them from the day it started.

The next one to try it will be the Georgia railroad. Major Green is now moving right along in the matter and he will have his track ready to Decatur very short y and the fare will be in easy reach of all and will be made in quick time.

Now here is a big chance for the Richmond and Danville railroad, who even now has nearly all the advantages of East Point and Hapeville. She has Gradyville, near human park, six miles out, and building up very fast. There is already a goodly number of people out there and more new houses going up, and she has also two little villages this side of there, and Ponce de Leon and Angier springs this side.

The field is wide open for this popular line to put on a train, which will pay them well to make from four to six trips a day to Inman park. Even now as early as the train "Belle" leaves, 4.50 p.m., it is full, and if it would leave at 6.10 and 6.20 p.m., iit is full, and if it would leave at 6.10 and 6.20 p.m., iit is full, and if it would leave at 6.10 and 6.20 p.m., iit is full, and at the train "Belle" leaves, 4.50 p.m. The chances are fine for a paying six frip-a-day train.

The East Tennessee, Georgia Pacific and Western and Atlantic railroads will have to fall in line soon, as the territory to within six and eight miles of Atlanta is building up very fast. Even now it would pay them to run a train four times a day to some given place six or eight miles from the city. The Atlanta and Florida railroad must not be left out, as she has a little town already started in a few miles of this big city of ours, which is growing so fast that in a few years she will have her limits extended for miles around her. The census showed a very large increase, and if she keeps on growing, we can count by the hundred thousand. Hundreds of people are coming here, and all those in moderate circumstances will settle on the line of some one railroad near the city, so they can come in and attend to their work in the morning, and return in the eve

The county enumerators, They are now engaging the attention of uperintendent Thibadeau.

Theirs is a great work, too.
Colonel Thibadeau, says the county districts vill show up most brilliantly in the count, and aracterized by figures hitherto undreamed of. He says the work of the census will show that Georgia's agricultural interests are fully alive.

"Fulton county is going to show the best fig-ures," Colonel Thibadeau ventured to say, "that it has ever yet shown. The gains in population in the various districts of the county and the suburban towns around Atlanta, espe and the suburban towns around Arama, specially, will be great.

"Throughout the third census district, however, a most prometing result is realized thus far. In the country regions the increase in the number of farmers will be more than the increase in the number of farmers will be more than the increase in the number of farmers will be more than the increase in t in the number of farmers will be more than twenty-five per cent, a great rise over the increase marked by the census of 1880.

"The number of productive industries, too, has increased to such proportions as will amaze the people. There are more mills, more factories of greater variety, and more industries of every kind than were ever known in this section of the state before. There are chemical fertilizer works in almost every county, and the number of other factories are just as surprising. just as surprising.
"Yes, if the census is to be taken as a basis,

There is not a town but has increased a great deal more by the present census than it did in 1880. Covington, perhaps, has shown a smaller increase than any of these towns, but it has done well nevertheless.

"The estimation of agricultural products will be especially good, because last year was an unsurpassed crop year."

IN THE CITY. There are but few late developments in the census of Atlanta that are interesting.

Everybody is estimating the population, and here all the interest centers.

A number of names are sent in each day to the supervisor's office and to THE CONSTITU-TION, that have never been enumerated. Among the number sent in yesterday were the names of Conductor S. C. Stovall, of the Air-line road, and family.

Old Uncle Kent Howell and his wife, Aunt Willie, who have been residing in the base-ment of the building at the junction of Broad and Peachtree streets, were also omitted. They have resided there for seven or eight years, and are well known in the city. Let everybody who has not been enumerated send in his name at once.

TALKED ABOUT THE STREETS.

"I have just learned through Mr. Hand," said President Forrester of the Melon Exchange as he surveyed a pile of telegrams on his desk, "that the imeion crop is going to fall at least 333 per cent below what was expected thirty days ago. I am surprised at that, but Mr. Hand is certainly in a position to know."

"What is the cause?"

"Excessive rains and grass among the melons. These are to be feared at all times, but we had hoped to escape any trouble of that kind this year."

Then Mr. Forrester began discussing the melon outlook generally.

"The most surprising feature of this year's business," he sald, is the great amount of iness that has already been done. The shipments for June have been far in excess those for the same period last year-fully three times as heavy, I judge." Then he continued: "The Exchange is on top by a large majority. We will accomplish all we set out to accomplish and that is a great

There is a kick, long and loud, from the Grady Cadets and it all grows out of an innocent little "side-head" in yesterday's Consti-

The Grady Cadets is a military company in which all Atlanta should feel great pride, and so, too, is the Grady Rifles, though the latter is not nearly so well known. The Cadets is, however, a much more important factor in military circles, the other company, which bears the name of the beloved Georgian, being composed of the smallest youngsters from the Moreland Park academy. It was this latter company which drilled against the Jackson Rifles—to the sorrow of the Grady Rifles—but the types, by some strange mistake, made the Grady Cadets appear in the role of the conquered.

Hence the kick. Captain Harrison Black, an aged veteran, whose home is near Canton, came to Atlanta vesterday for the purpose of showing THE CONSTITUTION some treasures he has served. Among these is an almanac of 1861, full of interesting facts, and a big roll of confederate money.

"How much do you reckon that cost you?" he was asked.

'Well"-and the tears came to his eyes as he tenderly spread out the greenbacks in the palms of his labor-marked hands—"well, I eckon they almost cost me my life. But I was willin' to give it, willin' to give it." And he looked as if he meant every word of

it. He was a member of Company 6, 23d Georgia, and bears scars which tell the story of his bravery. The many friends of Dr. J. W. Nelms-and

Are Trying to Adjust the Trouble in the Atlanta Rifles—Cards From Lieuten-ants Snook and Richardson,

The breach in the Atlanta Rifles will more than likely be healed.

Five of Atlanta's most prominent citizens are now working upon it industriously and unselfishly.

The publication in The Constitution yesterday morning created a sensation both in military circles and outside.

Atlantians are proud of the Rifles and were sorry to see discord in the company. Early in the morning Mr. Charley Northen began moving in an attempt to adjust the trouble, and called to his assistance Colonel Calhoun, of the Fourth Georgia Battalion, Mayor Glenn, Colonel W. H. Hulsey and Mr. Clark Howell.

Mayor Glenn, Colonel W. H. Hulsey and Mr. Clark Howell.

These gentlemen all agreed to do everything in their power to secure a reunion and re-establish harmony.

Mr. Northen, acting for the board of arbitration, had interviews with Captain Spencer and Lieutenant Smook and Lieutenant Richardson. To each of the gentlemen Mr. Northen stated that he and the gentlemen associated with him were anxious to adjust the trouble and bring the company together again.

None of the parties were in position to give a positive answer, but every one indicated a desire to do what was right and to settle the matter.

desire to do what was right and to settle the matter.

Today the trouble may be settled.

Letters signed by the board will be addressed to the different gentlemen, asking authority to move in an adjustment of the trouble.

The Constitution appears to have been inaccurate in giving the cause of the resignations. Lieutenants Snook and Riekardson write a joint card, in which they refute the money theory.

Here is the card:

that Money Can Make It.

That was Mr. Joel Hutr's comment upon the new Equitable building. Mr. Hart reached Atlanta on the Air-line train last night. He has been in New York completing the arrangements for the new building, and attending to other business matters in the interest of the East Atlanta Land "The Equitable building" hejexplained, "is to be built by the East Atlanta Land company, on the lot at the corner of Edgewood avenue and Pryor streets, across Pryor street from the Moore & Marsh building. As I have said, it is to be nine stories high, or about half again as high as that of Moore, Marsh & Co., and it is to be the finest, I suppose, in the south. We, I speak for the East Atlanta Land company, have made a long loan with the Equitable Assurance society at a rate lower, I suppose, than was ever made by any company in Georgia. We will proceed at once to erect the building, which, as it is to be southern headquarters for the Equitable, is to be known as the Equitable building.

"While all the arrangements have been determined upon," continued Mr. Hurt, "I I can't begin, in a casual conversation, to give you all the details. It is to be fireproof, of splendid construction, as fine as money can make it. The insurance headquarters will be as near perfection as anything can be. Then there will be a banking room with plenty of vault room, with safe deposit vaults. Rooms for a commercial club are to be provided, and so are rooms for a splendid law library. Besides those for the Equitable, there will be other insurance offices, all of them elegant. There will be offices of all kinds-I can't begin to give it all to you."

"Have plans been drawn?" "Not yet. That work and the work of erecting the building will be pushed forward as rapidly as possible."

SOME OTHER MATTERS.

In addition to the Equitable building business, Mr. Hurt's visit has another significance. He visited Boston, Fall River and other cities, and comes back loaded.

"Only this," was all Mr. Hurt would say about this part of his visit. "The Atlanta and Edgewood street railroad stands ready to carry out its part of its agreement with the city, and you may look out for interesting developments in this connection.'

THREE SHOTS FIRED. A Policeman Causes a Sensation on Alabama

Bang! bang! bang!
Three shots in rapid succession rang out on the quiet air last night.

The flashes of the shots were plainly visible from the upper windows of The Constitution building, and several reporters rushed down to see what was the matter.

A number of persons who were on the street were attracted by the shots, and a crowd quickly gathered.

It turned out that a negro named Johnson was the cause of the fusilade, and his own conduct caused his arrest. He was carried to the station-house and locked up on a charge of disorderly conduct.

The patrolman's story was that he was on his beat between Whitehall and Broad streets, and hearing a rap from the policeman on the lower end of Whitehall, he looked up and saw three negroes coming down a stairway. He called on them to stop, supposing that that was what was meant by the signal, and one of the boys broke into a run. He reached into his pocket for his gong, was unable to find it, and drew his pistol and fired three shots to attract the attention of Patrolman Ammons, on the next beat, Broad street, in which direction the negro was running.

The negro saw Patrolman Ammons approaching to head him off, and stopped and surrendered. He claimed that he was not guilty of any crime, and only ran because he was frightened.

FROM OUR NOTEBOOK.

Not Agent Robert Schmidt.—Mr. Robert Schmidt, the popular agent of the Central, was not engaged in any difficulty Tuesday aight.
It's another man, altogether.
Pretty much all day yesterday he was kept busy answering telephone messages inquiring about the difficulty.
The man engaged in the difficulty was Mr. C. W. Smith, a yard conductor for the Central—and not Mr. Robert Schmidt, the agent.

He Had a Gold Watch.—Sergeant English and Patrolman Mehan arrested Al McKinney last night on suspicion. A fine ladies' gold watch, which he had been trying to seil for $20 during the evening, was found in his pocket. The negro ciaims that Susie Johnson, of Social Circle, gave him the watch to sell. He came to Atlanta from that place yesterday, he says. The watch is evidently a stolen one.

The United Veterans.—Since the publication of Colonel W. L. Calhoun's call in yesterday's Constitutions a large number of veterans have sent in their names, expressing their intention to Attend the grand reunion of the United Confederate Veterans at Chattanooga, July 3d, 4th and 5th. Ample accommodations will be afforded for all who wish to attend, provided they send in their names in time.

A Vining Picnic.—The ladies of the Third Pres-byterian church will give a picnic for the benefit of the church at Vining station, on the Western and Atlantic railroad, on Tuesday next. Forty cents will pay for a full round-trip ticket.

They Were Well Pleased.—Yesterday Captain George B. Forbes, of the Atlanta Artiflery, received a letter from Captain George A. Mercer, of Savannah, who was commandant at the recent encampment at Augusta. Captain Mercer expressed for himself and his company the most ardent encomiums on the success of the encampment and the enjoyment of their stay in Augusta.

Two Damage Suits.—Mrs. Annie Lec has filed a suit for $10,000 against the Atlanta Street Railway company for injuries sustained in being thrown from a car on Marietta street.

Her husband, Raymond E. Lee, sues for $5,000 on account of the same accident. A Masonic Budge.—Chief Connolly has in his possession a handsome gold Masonic badge, which he will turn over to the owner upon identification.

The Livingston-Stewart Committees.—The meeting of the Livingston and Stewart committees, has been postponed until next Friday. The purpose of the meeting is to arrange for dates for public speaking through the districts by the candidates.

Not the Man.—George Washington, who was arrested Tuesday evening, on the charge of loitering on the property of another, was fined ten dollars and costs in recorder's court yesterday morning. He was suspected of being the rapist wanted in Duluth on account of an outrageous assault on a twelve-year old negro girl. He was not the man, however.

THE GEORGIA SAW-MILLS.

The Association Has a Delightful Time in Savannah, Hon. G. V. Gress has returned from Savannah, where he has been attending the quarterly convention of the Georgia Saw-mill association. The association was handsomely entertained by the Savannah people. In the convention much good work was done, and the result will greatly benefit the association. One of the most enjoyable features of the convention was a banquet given the association at the Ocean house, Tybee island, on Tuesday. It was an event which will long be remembered by all who were present.

Charles F. Graham, the proprietor of the hotel will long be remembered too by the members of the association. The menu cards were tasty and original. Every dish was up in lumber language, and on the back the muses sang:

THE CLOSING EXERCISES IN PROG-RESS.

The Boys' High School to Give Its Exhibition Tonight-The Girls' High School

Tomorrow Night. Another big crowd filled the Girls' High chool and Browning hall yesterday.

The pupils of the school were dismissed for the summer vacation, and all that now remains of the commencement programme is the graduation of the seniors.

This will occupy today, this evening and tomorrow evening.

Yesterday the order of exercises included public oral examinations in the several classes and the commencement meeting of the Mallon society of the Girls' High school.

Without multiplying stereotyped phrases, it is sufficient to say that the many visitors, relatives and friends of the pupils were much pleased at the showing made as the result of the term's work. Everybody was delighted with the literary exercises, which were of a standard that no school in the country could

Atlanta is probably prouder of her public schools and public school system than any other single thing she has. Yesterday's exhibition of learning and accomplishment, as manifested in all the various grades and classes, amply justified this high idea of what the public schools are to Atlanta.

IN THE GRADES. At nine o'clock the public oral examinations were begun.

All the classes were exercised in the studies to which they have been applying themselves

The different rooms were well patronized by visitors, who expressed frequent gratification at the discipline and proficiency displayed in every department. On the blackboards were many skillul designs drawu in chalks. The names of scholars who had wen honors for their excellence in studies and meritorious de portment were also upon the boards for public

Members of the board of education paid visits to the entire school, examining the oral and written work.

A room that was specially attractive was the businesss department, in charge of Mrs.

There the young ladies busied themselves in type-writing, stenography, book-keeping and other business practices. It was all very interesting, the more so that this was the first extended public inspection this feature of the public school system has undergone. That it has been a gratifying success was demonstrated beyond doubt by the skill and proficiency showed by the young ladies in the business branches taught.

No examinations were conducted in the fourth class, this grade having already held its oral review.

High marks have been attained by the scholars in all the classes, and those who re-ceived honors and honorable mention did so only after hard and close competition.

The Koll of Honor.

Here are the names of the honor scholars in the various classes, with the percentage they received:

Fourth class, Miss Nettie Sergeant, teacher-Miss Belle Winter, 98,866, first honor, shared by Miss Blanche Rosenfeld, 98.711; Miss Jennie Armstrong, 98.088; Miss Ruby Jones, 97.788; Miss Maude Steinheimer, 97.722; Miss Julia Riordan, 97.64, shared the second honor of the class. Honorable mention was awarded Miss Louise Breitenhucher, whose average was 97.466.

Third class, Miss Callaway teacher—Miss Maud Key, 98.98, first honor, shared by Miss Nellie O'Donnelly, 98.91, and Miss Birdie Laramore, 98.91: Miss Virginia Johnson, 98.22: Miss Ida White, 98.13, Miss Johnnie Akers, Miss Ida White, 98.13, Miss Johnnie Akers, 97.83, shared second honor, and honorable mention was made of Miss Lucy McTycire, 97.6, and Miss Minnie Tripod, 97.6.

Second class A, Miss Lula Hillyer, teacher—Miss Mary Robert, 98.87, first honor, Miss Fannie Bloodworth, 97.85, and Miss Rebecca Vaughn shared second honor. When the honors were read out, Miss Bloodworth was accredited with 98.85, entitling her to share in the first honor instead of the second. At the close of the exercises when the report cards were given out, Miss Bloodworth discovered that an error of one per cent had been made were given out, Miss Bloodworth discovered that an error of one per cent had been made in arranging the honors on the list handed to Superintendent Slaton. The mistake was made in transferring the average from the report cards. She was announced through this error as being sharer of first honor, and the mistake would have gone uncorrected had not the young lady herself gone to Major Slaton and put her name on the school record as a second-honor girl instead of a first-honor winner. It cost the young lady great disappointment, and she deserves all credit for her action.

Honorable mention was accorded Mis: Lucy Mays, whose mark was 96.79.

Mays, whose mark was 96.79.
Second Class, B, Miss Massey Teacher—Miss Augusta Choate, 97.8, first honor; shared by Miss Willie Davis, 97.7, and Miss Edna Pope, 97.6. Second honor was won by Miss Daisy First Class, A, Miss Roach, Teacher—Miss Myrtle Powers, 99.2, first honor; Miss Nellie Bosworth, 98.5, and Miss Stella Steinheimer 98.1, second honor.

98.1, second honor.

First Class B, Miss Prather, Teacher—Miss Daisy Smith, 99.7, first honor; shared by Miss Mattie Smith, 99.6. Second honor went to Miss Alice Ely, 99.1, and Miss Mary Glenn, 98.7. Miss Mary Bellingrath, 98.6, and Mis; Cora Jones, 98.6, were honorably mentioned.

First Class, C, Miss Kate Hillyer, Teacher—Miss Annie Sawtell, 97.71, first honor; shared by Miss Fannie Erskidge, 97.32. Second honor in this class was divided by Miss Carrie Clarke, 97.08, and Miss Belle Helmor, 97.76.

Business course, Mrs. Douglas teacher—Miss

97.08, and Miss Belle Helmer, 97.76.

Business course, Mrs. Douglas teacher—Miss Flora McDonald, 96.46, first honor, and Miss Mamie Scott, 95.71, second honor. In the junior class, Miss Thomes na Shelton secured first honor, her mark being 97.76, and second honor was divided between Miss Lillie Silverman, 96.81, Miss Emmeline Haynes, 96.74, and Miss Edith Budden, 96.6.

MALLON SOCIETY.

At half-past ten o'clock the oral examinations were concluded, and the pupils were dismissed for the summer vacation. They will return to their studies again the first Monday in September next.

The Mallon society includes all the classes of

The Mallon society includes all the classes of the high school, and at the conclusion of the exercises in their respective rooms, they were marched to Browning hall, in charge of the teachers, to take part in the exhibition there. Every chair was taken, and all around the walls and in the aisles the visitors stood.

It was a charming programme that the society rendered, replete with gems of music and elocution, readings and dialogue. That it was appreciated and enjoyed was evident by the close attention paid and the enthusiastic applause frequently bestowed upon the participants.

appears requestly bestowed upon the participants.

After the society had been called to order by Miss Lizzie Lovejoy, the accomplished president, and the reports of the secretary and other officers were heard, Superintendent Slaton announced the honors, as printed above.

As each young lady's name was called, she presented herself at the rostrum, where the teachers were supplied with an ample number of beautiful satin badges. The first-honor girls were decorated with these souvenirs in blue, and the second-honor in pink, which distinguished them during the remainder of the day.

Then the prepared programme was begun. It was as follows:

THE PARTING SCENES

Among the Fair Young Graduates of Lucy

ATHENS, Ga., June 25 .- [Special.]-And now come the parting scenes amid the halls of Lucy Cobb institute, when the fair young graduates lay aside their text-books and, with asant memories of a thousand joyous mo-ents, go forth from the halls of their alma pleasant me ments, go forth from the name of their aims mater.

Here they have spent the happy spring of their lives; here they have learned the lessons which are to inspire them in the midst of womanhood's maturer years; here they have become bound to each other in ties which coming years can ne'er efface; here they have treasured up within their memories sweet recollections of the past; and hence as they leave the classic shades of old Lucy Cobb, they turn with a lingering glance toward her they turn with a lingering glance toward her as they drift away into the whirling maze of

to their unswerving study in no unmeaning terms.

And on the other hand they cherish with fondness the loving tenderness and engaging grace with which their teachers have ever favored them, and to them they render the highest meed of praise.

The history of the graduating class is one of unparalleled success. In beauty, grace, study, accomplishments—in everything which goes to make up "the noblest work of God," the class of 1890 is in the forefront among all its predecessors.

Miss Lula Burrus recited a comic piece, "Oh Sir," in a manner which evoked much laughter and applause.

Miss Annie Snow gave a recitation on "Cooking Lessons," and examplified the knowledge of a college girl as to the culinary art in a splendid way.

Miss Ruth Brown rendered a selection from Joaquin Miller, in a pleasing manner.

The vocal duet, "Ring Out, Sweet Angelus," by Misses Ella Pope and Maggie Dunlap, was a song of rare beauty.

The risibilities of the audience were displayed over the rendition of "Widow Bedotte's Poetry," by Miss Mary Shaw.

Miss Nora Welch acquitted herself with great credit in the recitation of the thrilling piece, "The Weird Visitor."

"The Drover's Story," a fine piece of tragedy, was recited with splendid effect by Miss Jessie Rhodes.

Miss Mamie Callaway recited "Thora" in a beautiful and graceful manner, which elicited continued applause.

"The Benedictine," a recitation with musical accompaniment, was rendered well by Miss Sallie Moss.

Miss Minnie Cabaniss, one of Atlanta's brightest daughters, charmed the audience with a recitation of a unique and original plece, entitled "If Not Myself, Who Would I Rather Be?" Written in her easy and flowing style, and delivered with fine effect, it caught the attention of the audience, and brought long and continued applause throughout its entire rendition.

"Country Sleighing" was the subject of the recitation of Miss Mattie Hollis, and its rendition was faultiess.

Miss Susan Wadley was received with a storm of applause in her recitation of "Commodus," a highly tragical and pathetic piece.

"Emma Dunning Bank's Medley." a long name, but a laughable comic piece as presented in most exquisite style by Miss Laura Fraser.

Miss Bessie Carswell concluded the exercises with "The Confessional," and to the audience it seemed that something is in the old custom which reserves the best for the last.

The contest for the medal was a close one, and the distance between the many competitors could be measured in a hair's breadth.

GRADUATING EXERCISES.

Tonight the graduating exercises occurred, and in point of excellence have never been surpassed in the history of Lucy Cobb institute. It seemed as if the excellent points of all the exercises had been centered and combined in the last crowning effort, and each young lady acquitted herseli in the most satisfactory manner. The exercises opened with a play, entitled "The Poet's Dream of Fair and Famous Women," and each part was carried through to perfection.

Below is the caste of characters:
Dreamer, Miss Maude Hardeman; Venus, Miss Bessie Carswell; Helen of Troy, Miss Annie Dunn; Cleopatra, Miss Mattie Hollis; Jeptha's Daughter, Miss Kate Harris; Fair Rosamond, Miss Sallie Cohen; Lady of the Lake, Miss Susie Edwards. Aspasia, Miss Lula Burrus; Queen Elizabeth, Miss Ruth Brown; Daughter of Herodias, Miss Lena Wells; Joan of Arc, Miss Annie Snow; Mary, Queen of Scots, Miss Eunice Thoraton.

Miss Daisy Smith, one of the first-honor young ladies, then played "Margaret at the Spinning-Wheel," by Schubert.

The class then gathered together and sang its parting song.

Softly, sweetly and gently as the echoes of the music died away, the class of 1890 parted as a class forever.

After the class sang, the blue list was scattered over the audience. It was found to contain several interesting facts. Misses Clyde Patman, of Athens; Allie Stewart, of Newnan; Minnie Cabaniss, of Atlanta; Susie Edwards, of Athens, and Ella Fuller, of Atlanta, were post-graduates. Misses Bessie Carswell, of Chattanooga; Laura Fraser, of McIntosh. Ga., and Daisy Smith, of Saledo, Texas, shared first honor. In addition to these, there were graduated, Misses Ruth Brown second honor, Annie Snow, of Quitman; Eunice Thornton, of Athens; Mande Hardeman, of Clinton; Sallie Cohen, of Athens; Essie Rhodes, of Harmony Grove; Lula Burrus, Carnesville; Birdie Yancey, Tavares. Last Friday the primary classes opened the exercises, and the little folks showed a degree of knowledge that would have reflected credit on older pupils. The sprightliness of their answers in catechism, arithmetic, geography and spelling elicited hearty approbation from Monday was devoted to the examination of the intermediate grades, and, although a number of visitors were present, the young ladies seemed perfectly self-possessed, answering question after question without hesitation, thereby evincing intelligence of no ordinary kind. Catechism, Bible history, arithmetic, grammar, geography, American history, were reviewed in order. A pleasing feature of the day was a spelling contest, each side holding its ground well, until one word, more complicated than its predecessors, scattered the contestants right and left, leaving on the field of battle only a remnant of one line. Poetical recitations diversified the programme. Miss Hightower, of Empire, Ga., rendered "Sweet Pansies" very pleasingly, while Miss Annie Mock, of Albany, caused many eyes to grow humidlas she pathetically delineated the death of "Little Will."

Miss Katie Kraus, of Brunswick, delighted everyone with a humorous selection, rendered the intermediate grades, and, although a num-

Miss Katie Kraus, of Brunswick, delighted everyone with a humorous selection, rendered in her inimitable style.

The exercises terminated about noon.

Tuesday the senior department, together with the graduating class, occupied the study hall. The young ladies formed quite a picture as they filed in and took the seats assigned to them, the modesty of their deportment calling forth many encomiums from the numerous visitors. The senior classes were questioned closely in Christian doctrince, arithmetic, algebra, rhetoric, history, mythology, etc., exhibiting a high degree of proficiency in each of these branches. The most difficult problems were solved with apparent ease, and it some of our college students could have been present, they would have been deeply interested in this part of the programme. The youthful graduates, Miss Brosman, of Albany, and Misses McKervey and Lee, of Macon, delighted and captivated the audience with their thorough mastery of ancient geography, mental philosophy, rhetoric, English and American literature, geometry, etc., etc. Their knowledge of the poets was tested by requiring instantaneous quotations of some length from Longfellow, Tennyson, Burns, Wordsworth, Dryden, Shakspeare, etc., etc., while historians and novelists were quoted with equal facility. It was evident to all that these young ladies possess superior intellectual attainments. They reflect great credit on the noble institution that has sent out so many brilliant graduates, and the good sisters are to be congratulated on the success that has evercises will take place and many a young heart will beat high in expectation of a gold medal or some well merited premium.

The Kidneys!

The kidneys are the natural blood purifiers. If the kidneys are deranged they cannot keep the blood pure and healthy.

And if the blood is not kept pure, the whole system will become poisoned and deranged. Having few nerves of sensation, disease may exist in the kidneys and yet give no pain.

Some of the evidences of diseased kidneys are high-colored, scalding urine, brick dust deposit, uric acid in the blood, puffiness under the eyes, swelling of the abdomen, ankles and legs, tube casts in the urine, dryness of the skin, pallor of the face, cold extremities, palpitation of the heart, nervousness, neuralgic pains, rheumatism, fickle appetite, headache, dark, muddy urine, etc.

For any of the above symptoms exist in the kidneys and yet give no pain.

For any of the above sympto Stuart's Gin and Buchu is the medicine that is needed.

Any of the above symptoms at first may be slight, but they should not be neglected. They point to kidney trouble, and left to develop may terminate in Bright's Disease.

The contract for grading the extension from Hawkinsville east to Grovenia, Ga., on the Hawkinsville east to Grovenia, Ga., on the Georgia, Florida and Southern, a distance of thirteen miles, has been let to Patrick Keilly, of 11 Cornelia street, Atlanta. The location has been made, and the grading will be completed as soon as possible. The work is light, the material averaging about 8,000 yards of extending the procedule of the p cavation per mile, mostly through sand clay.

The road is being built by the Empire Lumber company of Chattanooga. The line at present extends from Dublin through Empire to Hawkinsville, a distance of forty miles.

By or before July 20th, through trains will run from Columbus to Savonnah, over the Savannah, Americus and Montgomery railroad. The roadbed, cuts and trestles are all ready for the change, and the only work to be done is to replace the rails with heavy ones and to widen the gauge. This work is being pushed forward this week at the rate of a mile and a quarter a day. At Richland the Savannah, Americus and Montgomery crosses the Columbus Southern, and over the two reads a through schedule will be put on.
With no mishap to prevent, the Savannah, Americus and Montgomery will be made standard gauge to the Chattahoochee river by August 20th, or thereabouts, from whence it rill be pushed rapidly on to Montgomery.

The pay of East Tennessee engineers doing duty on switch engines has been increased from $2.75 to $3 per day; road men will receive at the rate of $3.45 per day for extra time. It has been decided to allow hostlers at points where they have not been allowed before.

There are, two graduates, Miss Eva Bosworth and Miss Emma Moran, whose graduating exercises were unexceptionably fine.

The commencement exercises will open at 7:30 o'c'ock, this morning in the basement of the Church of the Immaculate Conception. There will be music, recitations, songs and other diversions for those who attend; and the entertainment will be rendered most enjoyable. The school has been very largely attended, the registration amounting to 137 pupils, and the average attendance will show that a very large proportion of the children remained in school until the closing day.

STS.-PRYER AND PAUL.
The school of Sts. Peter and Paul's church, has had an exceptionably large attendance.

The school started out under the most favorable asspices, and has held its own during all the dull summer months.

The closing exercises for the girls' school take place today, and for the boys on Friday The ladies in charge of the school are most enthusiastic over the success that they have attained in their work during the year.

ATLANTA ATHLETES.

THE PONCE DE LEON GROUNDS FOR AN OLYMPIAN FIELD.

The Sturdy Athletes Training for Their Field-Day-Some Excellent Plans Hit Upon By Professor Whitmau.

Atlanta's muscle is up.

The sturdy athletes of the Young Men's Christian association are ready for field-day. And the grounds around Ponce de Leon will soon be transformed into an Olympian field.

Every arrangement has been perfected to secure the grounds for a training school of the athletic fellows at the Young Men's Christian association, the Young Men's Christian association, and every afternoon finds Professor A. G. Whitman and a dozen or more of the athletic classes flying around the quarter track, dashing down the hundred yards straight way or swimming in the waters of Angier's park. All of this is in view of the approaching field-day that Professor Whitman is arranging, on which occasion the brawn and muscle of on which occasion the brawn and muscle of Atlanta's athletes will be shown up with striking effect. A PRELIMINARY FIELD-DAY. Sometime during the first week in August, Professer Whitman has determined to hold the first of a series of field-days to be entered upon by the athletic classes of the Young Men's Christian association.

This will be a preliminary field-day for the athletes prior to their intercollegiate and association field-day to be held at Ponce de Leon, next October. For these preliminary games a most interesting programme is being made out.

By an agreement perfected yesterday between Professor Whitman and the Atlanta Street Railway company, the grounds around Ponce de Leon springs belonging to the com-pany have been tendered the Young Men's Christian association for the purpose of estab-lishing thereon a perfect field for the entertainment to be given from time to time by the athletic classes.

At once an engineer will be put to work laying off a quarter track, and finishing it in ex-cellent style, leveling a baseball diamond and three tennis courts, grading and packing a hundred yards straight away, and otherwise putting the grounds in good order for the field-Already the athletes are training for the games.

Every Tuesday and Friday afternoons the classes are on the grounds actively at work training their speed and muscle to wonderful THE STATE CHAMPIONSHIP GAMES.

THE STATE CHAMPIONSHIP GAMES.

So great is the interest just now felt in athletic exercise and physical training in the state, that Professor Whitman has arranged to call together all of the athletes of the colleges and Young Men's Christian associations in Georgia next October.

A great field-day is being planned, and the presidents of the athletic associations at all of the colleges have expressed themselves as highly in favor of the scheme.

This field-day will be held in Atlanta, and will assemble here the robust fellows that represent the best schooled muscle of Georgia.

All manner of games will be engaged in, and there will doubtless be some excellent records resulting from the occasion that will go to the history of the athletic world as a splendid contribution from southern athletes. Running, tumbling, gymnastic exercises, tennis, baseball, putting the shot, etc., will form the greater part of the programme.

This increased interest in physical training will be encouraged throughout the state, no doubt.

doubt.

The movement by the Atlanta Young Men's Christian association to secure permanent grounds for athletic sports is a timely one, and the young men should be encouraged by receiving an interest in their work from the citizens.

It was a commendable spirit on the part of the Atlanta Street Railway company to give the association the use of the Ponce de Leon grounds, and there will doubtless be a field-day in August that will attract a large crowd, and reflect credit upon the athletes. reflect credit upon the athletes.

A Few Select Real Estate Investments On Which

the Purchaser is Assured

$1,750 buys the choice of South Roulevard. It is a corner lot. 100x120 feet to a 20 foot alley, just the right height above the street, and completely covered with a heavy oak grove. Nice homes already built on each side and in front of it, thus assuring pleasant surroundings. From it you can see the riding and driving in the park, and enjoy all the advantages of that beautiful place. The dummy line is very convenient, yet far enough away not to be objectionable. Liberal terms can be arranged.
$1,250 for a very desirable Forest avenue lot, 50x150 feet to an alley; good neighborhood, prominent street and a locality improving very rapidly. School and car line convenient. Easy terms.

prominent street and a locality improving very rapidly. School and car line convenient.

Easy terms.

$3,700 for the gem of Edgewood. It is a corner lot, 150x700 feet, and contains about 2% acres; part of the beautiful Binder property; lies level, and the entire front is in a large oak grove. Neighborhood unexcelled. Very convenient to Edgewood depot, and within easy walking distance of the Edgewood avenue electric car line. Beautiful hones all around it. Can fix the terms to suit you.

$2,750 buys a very desirable, close in, residence lot on Powers street near Spring and the cleetric car line. It lies high and level, and is 60x120 feet. Powers street will be paved with belgian blocks this summer, at the present owner's expense; water and gas already there. Terms, one-third cash, balance easy. More depth can be arranged for if desired.

$3,200 buys the most valuable vacant lot on Jacksom street. This street has just been paved with belgian blocks, and has on it, water, gas, sewer and street car line. The lot fronts east, is 72x148 feet to an alley, and is on the highest point on the street. Adjoining around the handsome homes of Mr. Miller and Professor Slaton. Very fine well, through twenty feet of granite, already on the lot. This is, beyond doubt, the finest lot for the money in this part of the city.

$125 cach will buy 71 of the best lots near the East Tennessee shops and the glass works now on the market. They are 50x100 feet cach, and can be had on liberal terms. A big mirgin in this.

MONGOLIAN INFELICITY

THE ONLY MARRIED CHINAMAN IN ATLANTA HAS TROUBLE.

The Fact That His Wife Was Apparently Untrue to Her Connubial Vows Causes Him to Resort to the Law.

Henry Leon, the Marietta street laundryan, is in a peck of trouble

And he is not to blame for same. Tuesday, his wife got on a spree, and when he found her, she was lying across the foot of a bed on which a man named J. G. Griggs was sleeping, in the basement of the building in which Leon's laundry is located.

She was dead drunk. Leon called the police, and they pulled Griggs and Mrs. Leon, and carried them both to the station-house and locked them up. Yesterday morning the cases were Griggs was fined $20 and costs, and Mrs. Leon

LEON IS A CHINAMAN, and he was very much excited over the little episode that had disturbed his domestic tranquillity.

So Leon, as the fines were imposed, paid hi wife out and took her home, and on the way he was informed that Griggs had threatened to kill him or make him leave the city.

This excited his wrath, and he swore out a eace warrant for Griggs and the latter was arrested and carried before Justice Landrum. The evidence was sufficient to warrant the court in holding Griggs under a bond of $250. This made Griggs angrier than ever, and when his son-he has a wife and family with several grown-up children-offered to go out and secure the bond if he. Griggs, would agree to go home, the latter decline THE WOMAN'S STORY.

Leon's wife is a comely-looking Irish woman She said vesterday evening to a reporter that she had been married fifteen years to Leon, who is an educated Chinaman and acts as an nterpreter frequently, as occasion requires, in disputes among his countrymen in the city. They were married in Philadelphia, and children have been born to them. The oldest boy was sent to China to be edu-ated, where he is now. Mrs. Leon claims that she is well connected in Philadelphia, and that she never began drinking until they came to Atlanta some years ago

She says that she was drunk and wandered into the room where Griggs and others were sleeping off a drunken debauch, and that she was guilty of nothing wrong.

She said that Leon had threatened to send her back to Philadelphia, and had threatened to sue for divorce on account of her drinking

They own a very snug property on Marietta street, and are well-to-do. But Leon is both angry and scared, and when the trial of Griggs comes up before Judge Landrum this morning, there will probably be some interesting developments.

Leon is the only married Chinaman in the city, and his conjugal infelicities will be cause for serious comment among his Mongolian

The one they first issued at $2.00 has been reduced to $1.50; there is another in plainer binding at $1.00, and a third in paper at 50 cents. These editions are printed from the same plates. Nothing has been "suppressed" in this translation of Mile. Bashkirtseft's Journal. Mrs. Serrano simply left out such parts as were uninteresting or trivial. One of the very reasons why the sale of the American edition of this journal has so far exceeded that in the original French is the very fact of judicious editing on the part of the translator. That was very clearly demonstrated Tuesday night when Charles F. Haines, wife, daughter and baby were arrested and carried to the station-house, with their adopted daughter, "Tot Guichard," for failing to pay a board bill.

another illustration of the sorrows of a stranded company.

For eleven years he has been in the show business, and four months ago he became connected with Professor Walter's "Star Vandeville Alliance," a light comedy affair, which has met with ill success in the south.

Sunday, Haines and his family arrived in the city, and Professor Walter hoped to get a day in Atlanta, but owing to the absence of Mr. DeGive, Haines says they were unable to carry out the programme.

Defive, Haines says they were unable to carry out the programme.

Haines, his wife and baby, and the little girl "Tot," went to Hudson's boarding-house, on Loyd street, near the Markham house, where they remained until yesterday evening.

Having received a telegram from Professor Walter that he had secured the opera-house at Marietta, and that they would be able to perform there tonight, Haines quietly prepared to leave the city.

perform there tonight, Haines quietly prepared to leave the city.

He had already promised that so soon as histrunks arrived he would settle their bill, and as he said last night, not having the heart to face his landlady without meney to meet the bill, he decided to get out of the city and go to Marietta, where he hoped to retrieve his broken fortunes.

Marietta, where he hoped to retrieve his broken fortunes.

A kind-hearted gentleman secured transportation for Haines and his family from Atlanta to Marietta, but just as they were ready to leave they were arrested on a charge of cheating and swindling.

Haines owed fifteen dollars board.

He was unable to pay it.

And the consequence was that he, his wife and little baby, and the little "Tot," who is a charming little girl of fourteen summers, were detained at the station-house.

EXPOSITION MATTERS.

The Executive Committee Endorses the Extension of the Machinery Building. At a recent meeting of the executive committee of the Piedmont Exposition company the course of President Wylie, in the matter of having the machinery building enlarged, was unanimously endorsed by a vote of the committee mittee.

The contract with the Wild West Show company, which had been closed by the management, was also endorsed, and it is to be made a special feature of the exposition. Pawnee Bill, with his entire company of cowboys and Indians, will be at the exposition with the most realistic scenes of western life ever beheld in this section of the country.

Immense reduction in charges for freight sesnegers has been accomplished without to the railroads. They have prospered, the people have been benefited, market value of the stocks of our most imtailroads has been steadily increased, is shown by the following comparative ent of the prices at which the stocks of the prilroad and of the Georgia Railroad and geompany, the two most extensive railroads in this state in 1879, were selling in deep selling now:

ILLE, Fla., June 25.—Sigo Myers, d treasurer of the cigar manufacany, in this city, has sent to Senter strongly, profestion against letter strongly profesting against of the tobacco section of the tariff section of the sanatelefore the senate. He calls the senmin to the vital importance of the his constituents, and urges him to off on record by boldly showing up the protectionists' policy. He says smoke Havana filled and wrapped cigars will, under no circumstances, descend to the strong, rank taste and smell of Pennsylvania filled and wrapped cigars. They could buy imported cigars at less money than we could afford to place Havana cigars on the market. The tobacco of Pennsylvania, New York, Connecticut and Wisconsin would go down in price, instead of advancing because the enormous rate of $2 per pound duty on Sumatra tobacco would put eigars at too high a price in proportion to the quality of the filler.

Again, protection will not protect because a crop of domestic tobacco never contains sufficient fine leaf to wrap the crop—and again, all would be forced to use imported tobacco as a wrapper. The letter says the section is impracticable, because if there is a single wrapper found in any bale imported, the whole bale becomes dutiable at $2 per pound, and it is unjust—because, if one or two dozen leaves out of a hundred pounds of tobacco are suitable for wrappers, then the importers must pay $200 duty' instead of $35, adding $165 to the cost of the bale without, in any manner, increasing the merchantable value of goods.

And See That it is not Vitiated by a Violation of the Rules.

Cutherry, Ga., June 25.—[Special.]—Yesterday morning at five o'clock fire was discovered on the premises of Andrew college, which proved to be located in an out-building, closely connected with the main buildings of the boarding department. The out-house was completely destroyed, and but for the calmness of the morning there is no doubt but that the whole property would have been destroyed. Though insured, the insurance will not be collected from the fact that ex-President Hoxard W. Key, who has recently been in charge of the college, had stored away in the burnt building a lot of hay, which is expressly forbidden in the insurance policy. The loss of the out-house is small, but the risk to the whole property was very large, and Mr. Key, so we are informed by one of the trustees, had been admonished about storing combustibles like hay on the premess. The storage of this hay would have vitiated the policy had the whole property been destroyed. The people are to-day criticising Mr. Key's flagrant violation of these rules, and much indignation is expressed.

A Grand Time for the Veteran Soldiers of Talbotton.

Talbotton, Ga., June 25.—[Special.]—The Southern Rifles spent last week encamped in Camp Richmoud, Augusta. On their arrival at Bostick Saturday night, en route home in a special car, they were met by a large number of ladies and gentlemen from Talbotton, to whom Suprrintendent S. W. Thornton gave a free ride over the Talbotton railroad. On arrival in Talbotton, at 8 o'clock p. m., they were escorted by a committee to college hall, where they found an elegant banquet spread for them by the ladies of Talbotton. This was indeed a grand reception, and was highly apindeed a grand reception, and was highly ap-preciated by the military company. The boys came home in fine shape, having improved about fifty per cent in drill and dis-

THEY ARE MARRIED NOW And Have Been Fearfully Anxious for Some

Time. CANTON, Ga., June 25 .- [Special.]-The old adage, "love laughs at locksmiths," has proven true again. Some weeks ago Mr. Sidney Mahan procured a license to marry Miss Cleo Boslow, both of Walesca, but the old folks interferred, and the ceremony was deferred. Last evening the girl's father brought her over to the closing exercises of the Etowah institute, and last night, at half-past ten, Miss Cleo and Mr. Sidney met Rev. J. H. Johnston, of Milton county, on the railroad track, at the rear of the Methodist church, and were made one, linking their lives and fortunes together for weal or woe. Both are very estimable young people, and have the best wishes of many friends. The father is taking his defeat quietly and submissively.

COLLECTING A BAD DEBT. One Alabama Farmer Shoots and Kills

Another. BIRMINGHAM, Ala., June 25.-[Special.]-James Lawrence, a farmer, was murdered at his home in this county last night, by Rob Smith, a neighbor.

Lawrence was sitting in his front yard by the side of his wife, when Smith approached with a shot gun, and shot him dead, without a word of warning. The murderer fled and has not been captured.

The men had a quarrel about a debt several days ago, and Smith had threathened to kill Lawrence if the money was not paid.

The Grading on the Macon and Birmingham. LAGRANGE, Ga., June 25.—[Special.]— Nearly all the grading on the Macon and Birmingham road has been completed between LaGrange and Macon. Trains will be running to this place by September 1st. The Chattanooga, Rome and Columbus will also reach here this fall. With these these two roads and the Atlanta and West Point, LaGrange will be an important railroad center. We now have a population of 4,000, which will soon double.

The North Carolina Teachers. RALEIGH, N. C., June 25.—[Special.]—There were many accessions today to the teachers' assembly at Morehead City, and nearly nine hundred persons are now in attendance. Dr. J. S. M. Curry lectured this evening, and ex-Governor Jarvis will deliver an address. It is the most satisfactory meeting of the assembly yet held. It will end next Monday, and the next day the first meeting of the Southern Educational association begins.

Medical Enthusiasm.

Some physicians, noticing the excellent tonics antiperiodic and antipyretic properties of Smith's Tonic Syrup, have endeavored to ascertain its composition. Of course the proprietors of this valuable remedy would wrong themselves if they made the secret of their cure public property. Why should its composition be considered so long as proves it an effectual remedy and as easily obtainable of druggists as is quinine. Many people who buy and use quinine don't know it is made from Peruvian bark. They don't care to know. They know it nearly always cures the chills and fever, and that is all they want it for. So too, the people know that Smith's Tonic Syrup is better than quinine. They know it cures chills and fever when quinine fails. They know also that Smith's Tonic Syrup will break up a cold or an attack of influenza, la grippe, etc., quicker than any other drug. They know also that it is pleasant to take and never leaves any unpleasant after effect. They know also that it can be used as a substitute for quinine and always with more satisfactory results.

THE STOCK MARKET.

The Day on the Floor of the New York Stock

RAILROAD STOCKS.

102

NEW YORK, June 25.—The street is still await-ing developments in the matter of the silver bill, the railroad difficulties and the sugar trust muddle, but in the absence of any special bear pressure quotations follow their natural bent and blowly appreciate, hotwithstanding the most intense dullness. Exports of gold seem to have tense duliness. Exports of gold seem to have about exhausted themselves, and still the money market maintains a condition of marked ease, and while all conditions of business, both for railroads and all other lines, are most favorable, the gen-eral disposition is to wait events of the hear fueral disposition is to wait events of the hear fa-ture. Today the excitement in Sugar Refineries calmed down, and dealings in that stock were brought down to very ordinary proportions, es-pecially after the early liquidation of long ac-counts had been completed. That operation carried its price down to 69, but as it had already touched that figure during the past week, its de-cline upon the decision seems not to have been naterial. A feature of the day was the activity and strength in Reading, which once more took the lead of the regular list and rose to 47, against 44½ last evening. The buying is understood to be for account of the people who succeed Corbin and his party in the stock, and those people who were his party in the stock, and those people who were very prominent in the reorganization of the Richmond and West Point some years ago. Five thousand shares were bought for account of one of the leaders, and the price rose above the limit, which checked activity and advance. Chicago Gas was dull and staguant today with the remain-der of the list, and specialties, which usually fur-nish one or two sharp movements even in dullness. wish one or two sharp movements even in dullness, were without a feature of interest. Good buying of Atchison made it a prime favorite in the last hour and a rise of nearly 1 per cent followed, but there were no features in the rest of the list, and dullness and stagnation were the rule. The close was quiet and firm to strong generally at about the best prices of the day. Final changes were almost all for small fractions, but while Reading is up 24 and Atchison 11/8 per cent, Sugar is down 21/8 Sales 123,000 shares of listed and 41,000 unlisted.

Sales 123,000 shares of insed and 41,000 timisted. Exchange quiet and easier at 485%@488%. Money easy at 3@41%, closing offered at 2. Sub-treasury balances: Coin $163,511,000; currency, 86,005,000.

Hubbard, Price & Co.'s Circular. Hubbard, Price & Co. & Circular.

NEW YORK, June 25-[Special.]—The course of the cotton market this morning was very puzzling, and it was not until 2 o'clock, when Messrs. H. E. Huston & Co. announced their failure, that the cause of the somewhat eccentric fluctuations were apparent. The early cables advised an advance of 1-61d with spot sales of 7,000 bales, which our private dispatches insisted was an underestimate of the business doing. This market opened at an advance of 5 points on August, but immediately commenced to decline on beaver of spoints. menced to decline on heavy offerings, supposed now to be on account of the above named firm, who are credited with having been heavily long. Liv-erpool closed unsettled on the receipt of weaker advices from here. After selling down to 10.51 for August our market reacted and closed firm at 11.58 upon the theory that a failure generally marks the culmination of any decided movement. Liverpool, however, seems still unsettled, and its reception of today's advices from here is uncertain. New crops continue conspicuously firm, and the distant positions are higher than last evening. Crop accounts are less favorable, and excessive rains continue in the Mississippi valley. Any upward movement in the summer positions will probably disclose a large short interest in the distant deliveries.

THE CHICAGO MARKET.

Features of the Speculative Movement in Grain and Provisions.

CHICAGO, June 25—Wheat—Only light trading, and the market ruled quiet most of the session though occasionally there were temporary spurts. Opening a shade easier than yesterday's closing, due probably to the bearish talk of a prominent trader and clearer weather, prices declined *#25%, but at the decline there was good buying, and with some bullish news from the northwest prices were advanced about 13%, then became steady, and the closing was about *#25% higher than yester-

Corn-There was a good general trade with a range of 3.614c. The feeling early was quite heavy, and operations were at lower prices, but later rallied some, but closed lower. The weaker tone was due mainly to weather advices throughout the west, reporting hot and forcing weather and exceptionally fine for corn. Oats were active but weaker and lower, but inside figures were not maintained, the closing sales being about the same as yesterday except for August, which was 1/20 lower. The depression of 1/20/40 in values was due to hot and forcing weather, unloading by longs, the weakness in corn and the absence of good buying orders. Mess pork-Hardly enough doing to establish a market. Prices are without material change and for the most part nominal. Lard-Quite an active business transacted. The feeling was easy, and prices receded 5@71/2c and closed rather weak at the reduction. Short ribs-A moderately active trade reported.

Early in the day the feeling was easy and prices receded 25,25c, but during the latter part of the session the market showed a little more steadiness, though prices exhibited little change. The following was the range in the leading fu-

(EORGIA, FULTON COUNTY.—TO THE SU-ty perior Court of said County.—The petition of W. A. Henphill, H. M. Cottingham, T. G. Raw-lings, C. T Swift and J. M. Brosius, all of said county and state, respectfully shows that they de-sire for themselves, their associates and successors

to be incorporated under the name of the "PARK AVENUE LAND IMPROVEMENT CO.," for the term of twenty years, with the privilege of renewal at the expiration of that time and by that name, to sue and be sued, to have and use a common scal, contract and be contracted with, and to have and exercise such other corporate powers as are granted by the laws of this state.

The object of said corporation is pecuniary gain to the stockholders and the business they propose to carry on is buying, selling and exchanging real estate. The amount of capital to be employed is $200,000, $100,000 of which has been actually paid in, with the privilege of increasing the same to $500,000. Their place of doing business will be in Atianta, Fulton county, Georgia.

Petitioners pray that they be made a body corporate with all the rights, powers and privileges of corporations in this state and especially with the rights to own, hold, sell, buy, lease, or rent real estate, to give and accept mortgages and other liens on the same and to improve the same in such manner as may seem best.

Wherefore petitioners pray for an order incorporating them and their associates and successors under the name aforeaid for the purposes herein stated.

And petitioners will ever pray, etc. "PARK AVENUE LAND IMPROVEMENT CO.."
